WILLKIE HITS HIGH TALK AND LOW ACTIONS

G.O.P. Candidate Heads Back Into Chicago After Charging "Election Steal."

By The Associated Press

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN ENROUTE TO CHICAGO, Oct. 22—Wendell L. Willkie brought his presidential campaign into the Chicago area today just after he accused President Roosevelt of using that city's Democratic organization and two others "try to steal the election for him without even a rebuke."

The Republican presidential nominee told an audience in the Milwaukee auditorium last night that his opposition uses "lofty talk and low performance," and added: "When the third term candidate begins his belated and forced discussion of the issues of the campaign, I want to put to him a question: You say that you seek no dictatorial powers because you submit yourself to a free election.

"Do you call it a free election when you sit in conference with the boss Hagues, the boss Flynns and the Kelly-Nashes? Do you call it a free election when the chairman of your committee—and he could not do it without your knowledge — sends out lists of government employes and seeks to collect campaign contributions from them? Do you count it a free election when you begin to put pressure upon relief receivers and people upon WPA employment?"

Asserting that "no such mockery was ever attempted in the history of this country," Willkie continued:

"Here is a candidate for President who has proclaimed himself as a liberal, as a reform candidate, but who allows three of the most corrupt political machines to try to steal the election for him without even a rebuke to them."

Wants Uninfluenced Vote

Willkie expressed the hope that he would be supported by "free and independent American citizens, uninfluenced by government, unseduced by flattery, uncontrolled in their voting ability."

The candidate's remarks were made after he finished a prepared address in which he said that although the administration's defense program may develop a bigger industrial system, "it will have been built upon the insecure foundation of a bigger debt.

"Production will inevitably increase, unemployment will inevitably decline (under defense construction)," the nominee said.

"But stop and think how this new work is being created. It is being created by money spent by the government, taken out of the pockets of the people or added to the mounting national debt. . .

"These are not the forces of private enterprise at work. These are the forces of public indebtedness. You and I are buying ourselves a bigger army, a bigger navy and a bigger air force. That makes business look better, but actually we are going into debt at the same time."

Willkie said he did not want to hear "the New Dealers point with pride to a business revival based on the creation of the huge war machine that we are building."

"Let me never hear them boast," he said, "that they have reduced unemployment by the sacrifice that hundreds of thousands of young men have made by joining the army.

Boast of Dictators

"Only dictators make the boast that they have 'solved' their domestic problems in that way. It is the ultimate boast of the all-powerful state."

The nominee, noting that his party had designated this as Young Republicans day, said that with the help of young men and women, "I predict victory on Nov. 5."

He reiterated his contention that "every major economic policy of the New Deal is pushing" toward some form of state socialism.

"I want you to understand," he continued, "that only a society built upon the independence of the individual can halt our drift toward a totalitarian state."

Saying that he wanted higher wages, greater consumption and opportunity for everyone, Willkie added:

"We shall never get that kind of America if we expect the government — any government — to give it to us. If we want that kind of America, we must go out and build it for ourselves."

"The nominee said that the nation's industrial machinery is wearing out and becoming inefficient.

"The reason that we have thus neglected our machinery, which is so important to the worker, is because investors have been unable to predict what sudden turn a

Battle for Shock Corn Title To Begin at Noon

Arrangements Completed To Handle Large Crowd; Names of 30 Contestants Listed.

Thirty of the two score contestants who tomorrow and Thursday will battle it out for the Ohio shock and standing corn husking championship in contests at the Alexander farm near Morral were named today by contest officials. The remaining 10 will be declared eligible upon receipt of results from scattered county contests, some of which are being held today.

Marion, Wyandot, Hardin, Delaware and Morrow counties will be represented in the state trials, all boasting county champions who are among those already having qualified for state competition. In each contest there will be 20 entrants, including the 1939 champion and the 19 men with the highest scores in various county trials held prior to the state meet.

In Shock Contest

Tomorrow, Wallace Passet of Wyandot county, 1939 titlist, will defend his shock corn crown against 19 challengers. Floyd Gale, who husked 1,378.8 pounds to win the Delaware county title, and Billy Smith, who husked 1,182 pounds to cop the Morrow county crown, are among those eligible to compete with him.

Thursday, John Feehan of Henry county, 1939 titlist in the standing corn division, will defend his laurels against 19 challengers. Earl Speece, 33, of a mile west of Kirkpatrick, who won the Marion county title for the eighth time when he husked 1,902 pounds of corn, will be among Feehan's competitors. Chester Collins, who won the Hardin county title, by husking 2,094.6 pounds and Lyle Byers of Delaware county, who husked 1,990.8 pounds, also will compete.

Other Contests Today

Contests which will have a bearing on the eligibility of five other entrants for each division include standing corn trials being held in Darke and Seneca counties today and shock corn competition today in Darke, Fairfield and Franklin counties. Contests were to have been held in both divisions in Green county, Saturday, but results had not reached officials this morning.

As officials marked time until they could complete the line-up of contestants, the work of preparing the contest scene for the invasion of an anticipated army of some 25,000 spectators was moving into its final stages. Parking facilities were being arranged, with a main plot of 40 acres laid out for spectators, and special sections alloted to contestants, officials and concessionaires.

Exhibits of farm machinery and implements, which will occupy a space of about 15 acres, were being put in place today. Twelve concerns will take part in the exposition, exhibiting and demonstrating tractors, plows, discs, cultipackers, cornpickers, cornplanters, cornshellers, combines, cultivators, hay pressers, feed grinders and other farm implements. Firms taking part are International Harvester Co., John Deere, J. I. Case, Farm Bureau, Massey-Harris, Minneapolis-Moline, Silver King, Huber Mfg. Co., Oliver, Ford Motor Co., Allis-Chalmers and Caterpillar.

Activity will begin tomorrow at

RAF STRIKES AT NAZI SHIPPING

Hamburg Dockyards and Convoy at Sea Targets of British Bombers.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 22—British RAF warplanes struck two crippling blows at German shipping, the London air ministry reported today, dumping tons of high explosives and at least 1,000 fire bombs on Hamburg dockyards—where German warships were under construction—and blasting a Nazi convoy in the channel.

The air ministry said bombs exploding around the convoy almost lifted some of the ships out of the water.

In an hour-long assault on Hamburg, numerous fires were started in the shipyard and surrounding docks, the ministry said, adding:

"A chain of fires became engulfed in one great flaming mass."

Two more British spokesmen meanwhile amplified Prime Minister Winston Churchill's assertion that Britain would launch an offensive and gain control of the air in 1941.

Reason For Great Army

Lord Croft, war undersecretary, declared "the war can never be won without a military decision, east or west, or on both fronts.

"That is why we are building up a great army."

Another authorized spokesman in London forecast an increasing use of air power in British land operations, disclosing that squadrons of bombers "and possibly fighters" will be placed under army command when needed "for any particular operation."

This was an evident reference to heralded big-scale warfare in the Mediterranean - Egyptian theater.

WORK WEEK DROPS 2 HOURS THURSDAY

Maximum Goes Down To 40 Hours; Pay Unchanged.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Workers covered by the wage-hour law will have a maximum work week of 40 hours, with the time-and-a-half for overtime, effective Thursday.

The reduction from the present 42-hour work week applies only to those engaged in interstate commerce.

When the law was enacted in 1938 it called for an approach to the 40-hour week maximum on a graduated basis of 44 hours the first year, 42 hours the second and 40 thereafter. The minimum wage started at 25 cents an hour and went to 30 cents in 1939 where it remains until 1945 when it changes to 40.

The change this week probably will have little effect on most of the nation's workers, labor economists said, with the possible exception of the distributive trades and a few other lines.

The labor department reported in July that the average work week in manufacturing industries was 37.3 hours.

Employes in defense industries working on government contracts are on a 40-hour week for the most part, economists say, because it is prescribed by the Walsh-Healy public contracts law.

PEOPLES LOAN DIVIDEND PAYMENT BEGINS FRIDAY

10 Per Cent Distribution to Involve $28,500.

Plans for beginning payment of a second dividend of 10 per cent to shareholders of the People's Building, Savings & Loan Co., now in voluntary liquidation, were announced today by Karl Schell, state superintendent's deputy in charge of liquidation of the company.

Payment will begin Friday, Oct. 25, at the company's offices on South State street. Shareholders are asked to bring their pass books when applying for their dividend.

The 10 per cent dividend amounts to $28,500. On July 22 the company began paying a 15 per cent dividend of $42,700.

DRIVE REPORT DUE TOMORROW

Community Fund Workers To List Pledges at Wednesday Night Dinner.

Marion's army of Community Fund workers pushed forward today, confident they will raise a substantial part of the $31,000 quota by the first report meeting tomorrow night at 6:15 at the Masonic Temple.

"Confidence" seemed to be the watchword among the rank and file of the workers. J. E. Oliphant, general chairman, commented this morning as the second day of real campaigning got under way.

Mr. Oliphant and other campaign leaders renewed their appeal to all the more fortunate people, of Marion to give liberally to the 1940 fund, at least 10 per cent more than last year. If any one didn't give last year—and there were quite a few who didn't—they can make up for it this time.

As in the previous two campaigns, there are five youth and welfare agencies depending upon the Community Fund for full continuance of their valuable community services during the coming year—the Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A., Boy and Girl Scouts and Girl Reserves.

As the first report meeting neared, Mr. Oliphant announced the names of members of the auditing committee and the public employes division, completing the list of workers.

Robert E. White is chairman of the public employes group, which includes L. E. Cookston of the post office, Fire Chief T. J. McFarland, City Safety-Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell, County Auditor Harry V. Mounts and Clyde Porterfield of the state highway department.

On the auditing committee are C. W. Smoot, W. Kenneth Tobin, Harold Nussbaum, W. H. Scott, Lowell Williams and E. Paul Bachman.

Illuminated Sign

To stimulate public interest in the progress of the campaign, a large illuminated "thermometer" has been erected on the south side of the courthouse to show how much has been given. It now reads "Zero" and goes as high as $31,000.

Another publicity feature is the cooperation of radio station WLW at Cincinnati, which has offered to make short spot announcements starting Wednesday, calling attention of Marion listeners to the campaign.

Several large campaign billboards have been erected and several score of window placards put in place.

A story on the activities of the Y. M. C. A., one of the agencies sharing in the Community Fund, appears on Page 11 of today's Star.

KILLED BY POLICEMAN

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22 — Franklin J. Byrd, 34, died early today of bullet wounds inflicted by Patrolman Harvey Alston, who reported that he fired as Byrd resisted arrest last night.

DRAFT NUMBER LISTS ISSUED

Numerals Given Marion Co. Men Preparatory to Lottery Oct. 29.

Marion county's young men were flocking to their draft boards today looking for their numbers—numbers which will play a big part in determining what they'll be doing in the next year or so.

All three Marion county boards have completed their lists of serial numbers and names of registrants. Registrants of Board No. 3 (rural area) will find their lists in the main lobby of the post office for inspection.

Registrants of Board No. 1 (Wards 1, 2 and 3) will find their names and numbers posted in the southwest corner of the basement of the post office late today.

Board No. 2 registrants (Wards 4, 5 and 6) will find their names and numbers posted in the first floor lobby of the Marion building at 198 South Main street, first door north of the Marion-Reserve Power Co. office. The names were expected to go up late today, but if they are not, the registrant can find his number by applying at the board's office on the third floor of the same building, Room 307.

Lists of registrants and serial numbers for Boards 1 and 3 are also available at the office of The Star for any young man wishing to learn his number. The Star will have a list for No. 2 board late today or tomorrow.

The total number of registrants as of this morning stood at 4,773, a slight increase from yesterday in the county.

Drawing Next Week

Meanwhile, a week from today at noon Uncle Sam will start drawing the selective service numbers which will put the first 800,000 young Americans in uniform by next June, and millions more during the ensuing four years, The Associated Press reported.

The historic drawing in the nation's first peacetime conscription program is expected to take a dozen hours or more. When it is finished, each of the 16,054,000 men who registered last Wednesday will know the order in which he is subject to call for a year's service in the army.

The big glass jar from which World war draft numbers were drawn will be used once again and, following the precedent of 1917, Secretary of War Stimson, blindfolded, will pull out the first number.

Plans for the draft drawing,

Two Bound Over to Grand Jury in White Slave Case

David C. Rogers, 42, of Mansfield and Glen Goebell, 18, of Cleveland were bound over to the county grand jury by Municipal Judge Hazen this morning on charges filed in connection with a recent white slavery investigation.

A preliminary hearing was held for Rogers, who is charged with transporting a woman through the state of Ohio for immoral purposes, and he was ordered held to the grand jury under $2,000 bond. He told the court he could not raise the bond and was returned to the county jail where he has been held since his arrest a week ago.

Pleads Not Guilty

Goebell, a former Crawford county resident, pleaded not guilty to a charge of aiding and abetting Rogers but waived preliminary examination in the lower court. He was released on a cash bond pending the next session of grand jury in January. He was brought here from Cleveland Sunday.

The only testimony introduced at the preliminary hearing for Rogers this morning was a typewritten statement which officials said was given to them by Rogers shortly after his arrest.

Give Statement

The statement, which Capt. Mackan said was not signed by Rogers, gave a detailed account of Rogers' relationship with a 20-year-old Cleveland girl whose story of being brought to Marion under false pretenses and forced to work at a house of ill-fame launched the white slavery investigation.

In the statement, as read by Capt. Mackan, Rogers said he was introduced to the Cleveland girl by Goebelt last month. He stated the girl told him she was looking for work in a restaurant or night club and then Rogers went on to say he offered to take

Von Ribbentrop Reported Holding Peace Terms Out as Bait for Action.

By The Associated Press

A ROME-BERLIN axis attempt to lure France into declaring war on her former ally, Great Britain, was widely reported today—with easy peace terms as the "bait" dangled before the Vichy government of France's Premier Marshal Philippe Petain.

Birtain has long since discounted the potentialities of French aid to Germany and Italy, however, especially at sea.

Much of France's navy, the second most powerful in Europe before the war, has been effectively crippled in naval actions at Oran, Algiers, and Dakar, French West Africa, or bottled up in Alexandria harbor and English ports.

Moreover, neutral observers doubted that France would fight against Britain, pointing out these factors:

1. Economically, France would be of little help to Germany. The vanquished republic has repeatedly been reported in desperate straits to feed her own populace.

2. As traditional allies of Great Birtain, France's demobilized soldiery presumably would be loath to take up arms against British Tommies at whose side they fought against Germany for four years in the World war. In effect, the comparison might be like making prisoners fight their old friends.

Dispatches from Berlin and the French-Swiss border town of Les Verrieres said a move to bring France into the conflict anew was underway. Germany's Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Hitler's No. 1 coup-maker, was said to be either on his way or about to start toward Vichy.

Re-entry of France into the European conflict on the side of the axis was reported strongly opposed by Premier Petain, but his vice-premier, Pierre Laval, was said to be discussing the question with axis officials in Paris.

Only last night, Prime Minister Winston Churchill broadcast an appeal to France: "If you cannot help us, at least you will not hinder us," in "beating the life out of Hitler."

Churchill argued Britain intended to share her expected victory over Germany with France, while Germany sought to destroy the French nation.

Easy Peace Terms

The axis scheme, reported by travelers reaching Switzerland from France, was said to call for a war declaration by France with the promise that she would lose only Alsace and Lorraine Nice, Tunisia, Jibuti and colonies she gained at Germany's expense from the World war.

On the military front, Italy claimed a naval victory over Great Britain with the damaging of an 8,000-ton British cruiser and sinking of six British merchantmen in a midnight-to-dawn battle in the Red Sea.

Low-lying fog over London and "ceiling zero" mist over German bomber bases across the channel hampered overnight raiding forays, but Nazi warplanes resumed the attack on London shortly after noon today.

From the high chalk cliffs of Dover and German emplacements in France, long-range guns thundered in a duel, hurling shells across the narrow strait.

Despite the murky weather, the London air ministry reported RAF bombers violently bombed Germany's big naval dockyard at Hamburg, starting many new fires in the port which has been a major target of attack by British airmen.

Another RAF raider attacked a German convoy off the French coast, the air ministry said, disabling at least one vessel. Other squadrons bombed wharves, warehouses and a ship at German-held Boulogne.

Still other objectives hit included a synthetic oil plant at Reisholz, a railroad yard at Dusseldorf, an airdrome at Stade "and various industrial objectives."

London had one of its quietest nights in six weeks, although the Germans reported their night raiders had bombed the empire capital again, attacked Birmingham and Coventry, and started "exceptionally large fires" at Liverpool.

Berlin's 4,000,000 slept through a night without alarm, but Nazi officials sped preparations to remove children from the German capital. German railways planned to run 75 special trains between now and Oct. 31 to take children from Berlin to safer areas, especially eastern Germany.

"Today's "invasion weather": seas calm in strait of Dover; week-long mist began to lift under bright sun.

Von Ribbentrop to Meet New French Leaders at Vichy

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Berlin AP Bureau Chief

BERLIN, Oct. 22—The possibility that France may reenter the war on the side of the axis powers was foreseen here today amid indications that Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop either is on his way, or is about to embark upon, a journey to the south west, presumably to Vichy.

Secrecy surrounded Von Ribbentrop's movements.

(Dispatches from Les Verrieres, Switzerland, on the French border, quoted informed travelers as saying the axis powers were attempting to persuade France to declare war on Britain by offering her comparatively easy peace terms. Vice Premier Pierre Laval was reported to be in Paris discussing the situation with Nazi officials.)

Rumors Long Heard

There have been rumors here for weeks of a pending amicable arrangement with France. For a fortnight the German press has refrained from saying anything derogatory about the vanquished nation.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's appeal last night to France to refrain from doing anything that might hurt the British cause, finally gives substance, however, to recurring intimations that German negotiations with France have advanced to the stage where a visit by Von Ribbentrop may clinch them.

Whether Von Ribbentrop, if really bound for Vichy, will continue on to Madrid, also was a question for speculation in the German capital.

Inquiries of informed sources as to whether a visit to Moscow is also on the foreign minister's schedule were met only with shrugs of the shoulder and the reply:

"That comes later."

Other Developments

In a chain of circumstantial evidence, however, the following points may be mentioned:

1—Rumors concerning negotiations with France have been recurring here with frequency in the past weeks.

2—Hints by authorized sources that the Balkans are a matter of secondary importance to other events in the offing.

3—Unusual secrecy with which Von Ribbentrop's present movements are shrouded.

4—That fact that his press chief, Dr. Paul Schmidt, has also been out of town for several days.

5—Churchill's unusual appeal to France at this particular time.

ONE HURT, ANOTHER JAILED IN MISHAPS

A Marion youth was injured in an auto-truck collision at Main and Columbia streets this morning and a Mansfield truck driver was arrested on a charge of drunken driving following another traffic mishap on West Center street last night.

Hurt in the accident this morning is Russell Dale Stoneburner, 23, of 670 Meadow street whose automobile figured in a collision with a coal truck driven by Norman Berry of 206 Windsor street.

Stoneburner was taken to City hospital where attendants reported he suffered numerous cuts about the head and face. Dr. A. A. Starner, the attending physician, said he does not regard his condition as serious.

Police were told the Stoneburner car was southbound on Main and the truck westbound on Columbia. Both vehicles reached the intersection just as the traffic light changed, officers were told.

Following the impact the truck

Mr. Willkie Promises

To find a solution of our economic predicament. Whether he can fulfill his promise no one knows. But we prefer as president a man who sees the realities of our predicament clearly enough to promise that he will try to save us rather than one who cavalierly pretends that we are already saved.

CCC CAMP SPEAKER GIVES SOILS TALK

Dayton Man on Program of Young Farmers Meeting.

Seventy-five were present last night at CCC Camp Harding to hear a discussion of "The Physical Condition of Soils" by Alfred H. Paschall of Dayton, chief of the regional soil conservation office. He discussed the origin of soils, physical properties and how soils are formed.

A moving picture "Once Upon A Time" was shown.

The meeting was one of a series sponsored by the Marion County Young Farmers association, vocational agriculture teachers and other farm interests.

At the next meeting, Nov. 4 at 8:30 p. m. at the CCC camp, Harry Moore of Dayton, farm management specialist, will speak on "Does Soil Conservation Affect the Farmer's Income?"

Milford E. Schmidt, vocational agriculture teacher at Pleasant township school, presided last night.

FORMER MARION MAN IS NAMED CAPTAIN

George R. Gretser Promoted by U. S. Army.

George R. Gretser, formerly of Marion, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the U. S. army, according to word received by his father, George A. Gretser of 193 Summit street. At present he is finance officer at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Captain Gretser was graduated from Harding High school in 1927 and after two years at Ohio State university in the college of business administration was appointed to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., by former Congressman Grant E. Mouser Jr. He entered the academy in July of 1929 and upon graduating in 1933 was assigned to duty in the infantry at Fort Ontario at Oswego, N. Y. After three years there he was commissioned first lieutenant and assigned to duty at Fort McKinley, Philippine Islands, where he served as assistant post exchange officer.

In 1932 he was assigned to the government finance school at Baltimore, Md., and after completing the required course was appointed auditor of properties in the finance department of the Sixth Corps Area, with headquarters in Chicago. Later he was stationed at his present assignment at Fort Sheridan.

Iron Lungs To Have Many Uses at Hospital

women and children of ity and county gave gen- more than $2,100 — appeal went out for buy Marion City hos- iron lung.

they gave the thought of paralysis was uppermost of three Marion res- had been claimed by the and feeling was intense. money was raised to only the same model iron by Fred B. Snite Jr., of but an infant size de-large lung is now on dis- the courthouse basement; model will be here in two weeks, according to E. Collins, Inc., of Bos- manufacturers of the -Collins respirator.

Marion has bought more two iron lungs for infantile paralysis victims. When the infant size respirator arrives City hospital will have two of the finest pieces of equipment for treating a wide variety of cases.

Has Wide Use

Few persons outside Miss Lillian McCarthy, the nurse-originator of the drive for funds, Miss Margaret Parker, hospital superintendent, and physicians who have studied the iron lung, knew exactly what the equipment would mean to the hospital.

Here is a list of conditions other than infantile paralysis that has been helped by the artificial respirator, according to Miss Parker:

Carbon monoxide poisoning; drowning, lockjaw; food poisoning; gas poisoning of all types; alcoholic coma; smoke suffocation; electric shock; spinal anesthesia; brain tumors and cerebral hemorrhage.

The infant size iron lung will be of particular benefit on second floor, the maternity center of City hospital, according to Miss Parker.

Because it has proved so safe and effective, the principal of the Drinker respirator has been used as a special respirator for new born babies.

Many babies have difficulty breathing properly at birth and the respirator is used to give them assistance, she explained. Since many babies who need this help are premature babies, the model that City hospital will have is equipped with automatic temperature control which makes it an incubator as well as a respirator.

Easily Moved

The large model weighs only 500 pounds and can be transported easily about the hospital. Large rubber-tired wheels provide silent mobility.

The new heavy duty motor which operates the bellows, or accordion piston, is silent and will not disturb the patient being treated or patients in nearby rooms.

In case a fuse blows out or the hospital's electric current is shut off for any other reason while a patient is in the respirator, there is a convenient handle which allows the operation of the machine by hand.

The new head rest can be raised or lowered to suit the comfort of the patient and the head of the cot can be raised quite easily.

How It Works

Here's a description of how the respirator causes respirations:

The patient's body lies entirely inside the round, air-tight chamber with his head outside, protruding through a soft sponge rubber collar which fits snugly, but not tightly, around his neck, keeping the chamber air-tight.

Each time the bellows goes down it draws a certain amount of air from the chamber, causing a partial vacuum or negative pressure around the patient's chest and body.

This means that the patient's chest, which is inside the respirator, is surrounded by less air pressure than his head, which is outside at atmospheric pressure.

The outside air at atmospheric pressure forces its way through the patient's nose and mouth and inflates the lungs. Then the bellows rises, the air pressure is returned to normal and the recoil of the chest muscles causes exhalation.

In case the patient hasn't enough muscle tone to exhale properly, air can be forced inside the chamber each time the bellows rises. The depth and rate of respiration can be easily regulated.

Won't Have Isolation Ward

Discussing the addition of the respirators to City hospital equipment, Miss Parker said, recently that contrary to first plans, she will not furnish an isolation room at the hospital, but will store the respirator at the hospital.

"Then if we have an infantile paralysis case, we'll put the respirator in the room and isolate the room," she explained, adding that this plan would save the city the cost of equipping an isolation room and also would not take from the hospital much-needed space.

Miss Parker was enthusiastic about the iron lungs: "If we only have three or four cases a year and save them, the lungs are worth every cent put into them. They may have more value than we have any idea just now."

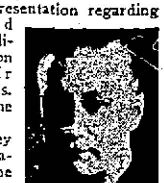
The Truth About Schools and Taxes

The Bricker administration is on the defensive along a broad front. So they have resorted to bald misrepresentation regarding schools and taxes, to divert attention from their tragic failures. Here is the truth.



Martin L. Davey

The Davey Administration gave the School Foundation Law to Ohio. Bricker, as Attorney General, sulked while this great work was being done. Davey opened the schools and guaranteed their financial stability. Davey gave definite State taxes to the schools. Bricker took these taxes away from the schools, and upset the program.

Davey left six and a half million dollars in the Public School Fund. It was pledged by law to the payment of school notes. Bricker wrongfully took from the schools this six and a half million, and put it in his General Revenue Fund, to make his own budget look better. This was a grossly immoral act, even if it was done by law.

The democratic state platform says definitely that the obnoxious sales tax will not be repealed until a satisfactory substitute is found. Then, and only then, will it be repealed. The schools and every function of the State government will be protected. The schools will be safer under Davey, than under Bricker's financial juggling.

Certain lobbyists have been using the schools to keep the iniquitous sales tax saddled on the people. These lobbyists operate slyly behind the scenes. An officer of the Ohio Educational Association is said to be Bricker's choice for Director of Education, and he has lent himself to this campaign of misrepresentation.

Davey is a life-long friend of the schools. His administration pushed through the School Foundation Law, and saved the schools from their most serious crisis. This is the greatest thing ever done for the schools of Ohio. All school people owe a deep obligation to Davey, and will never be guilty of ingratitude.

Mark well this fact! The State of Ohio cannot tax real estate, without a vote of the people. The constitution forbids it. And the people will never vote for it.

Even your local officials cannot tax real estate more than one per cent of its value, unless you vote for it. Again the constitution forbids it. Real estate is protected by iron-bound conditions in the State Constitution—as it should be. See Article XII, Section 2, of Ohio's Constitution.

If anyone tries to tell you that real estate taxes will be affected by repealing the sales tax, or by any other State activity, tell him that he is either inexcusably ignorant, or is resorting to a wilful falsehood. Tell him he needs to read the Ohio Constitution.

Martin L. Davey is one of the best friends the schools of Ohio ever had. He is a deeply interested and sincere friend. His record and his pledged word guarantee the full safety of the schools.

MARRIAGES OUTNUMBER DIVORCES, FOUR TO ONE

Marriage licenses outnumbered divorces more than four to one in Marion city and county last month, according to records in the office of Probate Judge Oscar Gast and Clerk of Court Carl F. Haberman.

Fifty-five couples were granted licenses to wed and were married in September, probate court records reveal. Twelve divorce decrees were granted, according to records in the clerk of court's office.

Of the divorces granted, 10 were to wives, eight on grounds of neglect and two for wilful absence. Two were granted to husbands, both for neglect.

Five other divorce actions were dismissed. Four had been brought by husbands and one by a wife, all charging neglect. Two wives who received decrees were restored to their former names.

MOOSE LODGE WOMEN AT KENTON MEETING

A group of Marion members of Women of the Moose attended a conference Sunday in Kenton at which Mrs. Anna Rigner of Columbus, associate regent, was guest of honor. Attending from Marion were Mrs. Winifred Baker, senior regent, Mrs. Tillie Coberly, Mrs. Margaret Morrison, Mrs. Delsia Baker, Mrs. Lizzie Miers, Mrs. Flora Hoffman and Miss Mildred Kenyon. Chapters from Bucyrus, Carey, Columbus, Findlay, Lima and Van Wert also were represented. A public speaking contest on the topic, "How Can I Best Spread the Gospel of Moosedom," was won by Mrs. Erma Wenninger of Bucyrus.

Marion chapter, which at its last meeting voted contributions to the Red Cross and community fund, was invited to attend a meeting of Mansfield chapter on Oct. 30.

MORRAL M. E. CHURCH PASTOR IS HONORED

Testimonial to Rev. W. H. Kiser Opens 5th Year of Pastorate.

Special to The Star

MORRAL—A reception for Rev. W. H. Kiser with approximately 75 persons present was held Friday night at the Morral Methodist church, sponsored by women of the congregation.

The church was beautifully decorated. The pews were removed, rugs were placed on the floor, chairs and small tables with lamps and floor lamps were used to represent a large living room and there were flowers for decorations.

The altar was made to resemble a rock garden, mirrors were used to represent pools of water.

The whole was a beautiful setting for the program which included: hymn, "In the Garden," by the audience; welcome address, Mrs. Henry Bardon; response, Rev. W. H. Kiser; vocal duet, Grace Hughes and Barbara Anderson; accordion solo, Miss Grace Gruber of Marion; talks by Rev. William Alexander, Methodist minister from Arcadia, O., Rev. M. C. Harlow of the Morral Baptist church, and Superintendent V. L. Anderson of the Morral schools; accordion solo, Miss Grace Gruber; closing hymn, "God Be with You Till We Meet Again;" benediction, Rev. Kiser. This will be Rev. Kiser's fifth year here.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Oct 23

INTRIGUE and surprise may dominate the affairs of this day, according to the lunar as well as mutual aspects of the higher octave planets. It is quite probable the personal life, social, emotional, domestic and romantic, may react to this obscure, vague, sudden and wonder-working stimulus rather than commonplace interests.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves launched in a year calling for a high order of strategy, subtlety and cleverness in order to handle with discretion and prudence singular developments or entanglements in the private life. This, in romantic intrigues, sensational or mysterious, affecting the domestic or affectional tites. However such subtlety peculiar ingenuity and craft might be demonstrated in the realm of creation in art, literature, music or other form of romantic adventure.

A child born on this day should be exceptionally versatile, adaptable and skillful, probably in the arts, literature, drama, music or in scientific research or invention. Its private life may be spectacular.

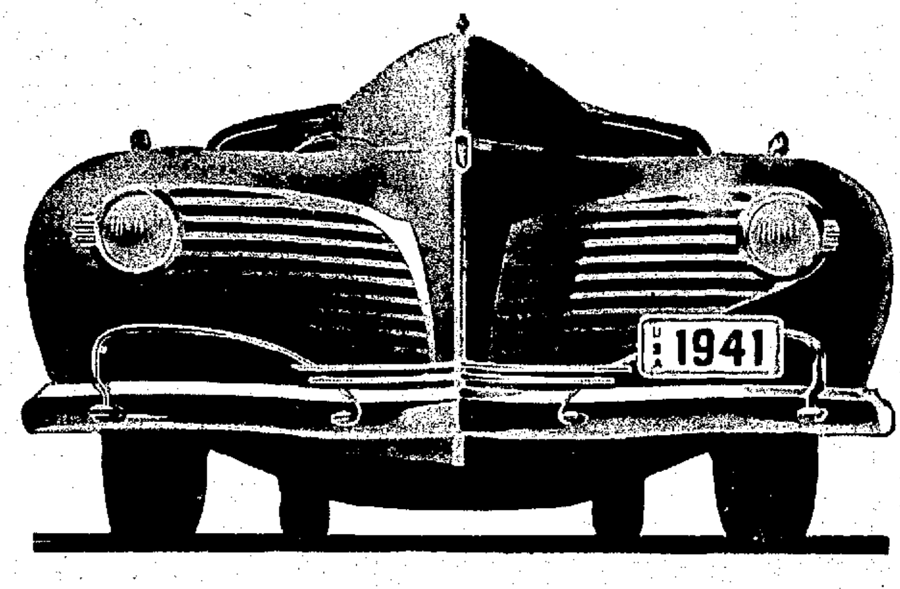
THE MOST IMPORTANT NEW CAR ANNOUNCEMENT DODGE HAS EVER MADE



DODGE presents to America a Great New Car with FLUID-DRIVE*

For 26 years, the public faith in the Dodge printed word has been a valued Dodge asset. Dodge has found it sound policy to make the performance of its cars exceed its promises in print.

The enthusiastic adjectives used in this advertisement represent no departure from this policy. They are used because the facts demand them.

This IS the most important new car announcement Dodge has ever made. This IS the story of the greatest car Dodge has ever built. To say less would be to slight the full and simple truth.

W. J. O'Neil
President
DODGE BROTHERS CORPORATION

THE GREAT NEW DODGE for 1941 is longer, lower, roomier. It is completely re-designed; beautiful and distinguished in its sweeping new lines. It reflects what smart Americans call "good taste".

These things your eyes will tell you. But you'll need to "feel" as well as "see", to get the full thrill of the new Dodge Fluid-Drive.

Only by taking the wheel, on the road, can you experience the miracle* of this new and wholly effortless way of driving.

Dodge Fluid-Drive frees you from the nuisance of gear-shifting and clutch-coddling. A touch of your toe on the accelerator or the brake becomes the complete driving operation. You use your hands merely to steer.

DODGE FLUID-DRIVE lets you start off in high and accelerate to top speed without shifting gears. It lets you slow down to one mile an hour . . . then move quickly through traffic without shifting. Halt at a stop light, then glide ahead without shifting or declutching.

You can climb hills at one to five miles an hour in high, come to a dead stop on the hill, then start up again . . . still in high. You can creep through heavy sand, dig out of rutted roads, plough through snow . . . all without declutching or shifting gears. And without stalling the engine!

Like many truly great things, Dodge Fluid-Drive is simplicity itself in design and operation.

There's nothing new to learn. You simply cut out two old and irksome driving motions . . . gear-shifting and declutching.

And when you want extra-fast getaway, Dodge Fluid-Drive gives you an EXTRA surge of power at a flip of a finger, in "second"!

IT IS OFTEN SAID that Dodge is one of America's most economical cars, in its consumption of gas and oil.

Now comes Dodge Fluid-Drive teaming up with Floating Power (which banishes engine vibration) to give you a new standard of silken engine performance. An oil-like smoothness that makes you forget that old mooted argument about the number of cylinders.

Now, for the first time, you get the remarkable economy for which Dodge has always been famous, plus a new velvet-smooth flow of power that puts to shame many an engine with more cylinders.

SOME DAY ALL CARS will come to something like Fluid-Drive. That's inevitable, with traffic congestion crying out for simplified driving.

But Dodge is the lowest priced car to give you Fluid-Drive today and now!

Your 1941 Dodge will cost you just a few dollars more than the price of the smaller cars. (Fluid Drive optional at slight extra cost).

Dodge can give you this extraordinary value because its vast organization is especially geared to produce fine motor cars on a huge production basis.

Over 30,000 men are now engaged in producing this great new car. They are true Dodge craftsmen . . . imbued with the idea that only a dependable car is worthy of the Dodge name.

DODGE HAS BEEN BUILDING that kind of car for 26 years. An extra quality car at a budget-balancing price. A car for the man who wants a prestige product as well as a low price.

There are a lot of such men. That's why Dodge has sold over 3,600,000 fine automobiles.

Why, also, there are more Dodge cars on the road than any other fine car in the Dodge field.

THE 1941 DODGE was conceived in the industry's newest and best-equipped engineering laboratories. It is the result of years of testing and re-testing. Even such a factor as the type of rubber used in Dodge was specified as a result of research by our engineers.

And there are no less than half a hundred other new improvements in Dodge for 1941 that came from the minds of these same engineers.

We're tempted to tell you about all of these exciting innovations. But you'll get the thrill of them best if you go to see the car . . . and discover for yourself its vast wealth of new comforts, new conveniences, new luxury features.

A TRIP TO THE DODGE SHOWROOM will confirm every word of this message. A ride behind the wheel will supply an experience no words can convey.

No matter how much MORE, or how much LESS, you expect to pay for a car this year . . . by all means look at the big new . . . great new . . . dependable Dodge. Ride in it and experience the thrill of Fluid-Drive for yourself. Ask your dealer for a free book that gives you the whole story.

Once you pilot a 1941 Dodge with Fluid-Drive, we believe you won't be content until you own it!

State Husking Contest Wednesday

... with plowing demonstrations by 12 tractor companies in a soybean field. Corn picking machines also will be demonstrated by seven manufacturers. The parade to the contest field is scheduled for 11:45 a. m. and the contest finals begin at noon and end 80 minutes later, at 1:20 p. m. Demonstrations continue at 1:30 and at 2:30 trophies and prizes will be awarded the winner of the contest.

In addition to the contests and displays, there will be a special educational program Thursday afternoon with Dr. Carl W. Gay of the animal husbandry department of Ohio State university as speaker. His topic will be "The Modern Livestock Farmer." A "corn clinic" will be conducted by Dr. L. L. Huber, state entomologist at the Ohio experiment station. Farmers are invited to bring specimens of corn infested with disease or insects for examination by experts, who will determine what's wrong and recommend a remedy.

Other exhibits will deal with factors to be considered in developing management plans for central Ohio farms, the makeup, feeding value and resistance to disease of hybrid corn, and soil conservation and the proper construction of open drainage ditches.

Officials Selected

Names of more than 300 officials who will serve as referees, gleaners, weighmasters and in other official capacities were listed today by C. B. Casto of Green Camp. This group will be supplemented by members of the vocational agricultural classes of high schools throughout the county, probably boosting the number of workers under Mr. Casto's direction to over the 400 mark. Referees will don white jackets furnished by the Green Camp Cooperative Elevator and the Marion County Hybrid Seed Corn Producers' association, while the gleaners will wear blue jackets supplied by the Ohio Farm Bureau Cooperative.

The 100-acre contest field is located along the Irvin-Shoots road, and probably can best be reached from Marion by going west on Route 30-S to Big Island. Turn right at Big Island and go north to the third side road. Turn left and go west for a mile. The routes have been well marked, making it difficult for any one to miss the way. State highway patrolmen and representatives of the sheriff's office will help direct traffic and handle the crowd.

Entry List

Listed below are the contestants declared eligible this morning by Ray T. Kelsey of The Ohio Farmer, sponsor of the affair. Following the contestant's name is the county each represents and the pounds of corn husked to qualify for the state meet.

LA GUARDIA SCUFFLES DETROIT HECKLER

New York Mayor Resents Question from Crowd.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 22 — Mayor Fiorella H. La Guardia of New York, paying a whirlwind visit to Detroit in behalf of President Roosevelt's re-election, climaxed a busy afternoon by scuffling with a heckler on the city hall steps today.

As the stocky La Guardia was walking down the city hall steps after a call upon Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, a man stepped out from the crowd and cried:

"Did Boss Flynn send you here?"

Presumably he referred to Edward J. Flynn, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Witnesses said that Mayor La Guardia strode up to the man, seized him by the shoulders and began to shake him, meanwhile shouting: "You take that back. Are you going to take that back?"

Police thereupon stepped between the men and took the heckler to headquarters. No charges were filed against him, and he was released after questioning.

Inspector Jesse Meade and Patrolman Elwyn McCall said that La Gaurdia had seized the man, shaking him while demanding a retraction.

At headquarters Inspector Fred Stephan said the heckler claimed to have lost two buttons off his shirt in scuffling with La Guardia.

The man said he would file no charges against La Guardia, the inspector said. Stephan said the man added the comment: "It's too cheap to bother."

Mayor La Guardia cited an Ohio case here to support his contention that Wendell L. Willkie "cannot be trusted with the social security of 50,000,000 men and women." He told a rally of independent voters last night that the pension system among employes of the Northern Power & Light Co. "was junked right after Commonwealth & Southern got complete control of the management of this company." At that time the utility candidate, Wendell Willkie, was general counsel for the Commonwealth & Southern.

WHITE SLAVE

her to Mansfield to find her a job. Further in the statement he said he stayed overnight with the girl in Cleveland and then took her to his home in Mansfield where they stayed four days. Then, on Sept. 29, he said he brought her to the house at 689 Kenton avenue, owned by Mrs. Grace Pollock, and told her she could room and board there. He said he did not tell her it was a house of ill-fame. At another point in the statement he said he returned to the Pollock house Oct. 7 and again Oct. 12 and that on the second occasion he obtained some money from the girl.

Testifies About Statement

Capt. Mackan testified the statement was an exact account of answers given by Rogers.

"He (Rogers) said the statement was all right but that he wouldn't sign it until he saw an attorney," Capt. Mackan told the court.

The only interruption in the hearing this morning came shortly after Capt. Mackan started reading the statement when J. Wilbur Jacoby, attorney for Rogers, complained that the statement had not been "properly identified." Judge Hazen ordered a short recess until Miss Martha Bianchi, a secretary in the office of Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel, arrived in court. Miss Bianchi testified she prepared the statement during questioning of Rogers last week.

Prosecutor Michel represented the state at the hearing.

No Defense Testimony

No defense testimony was introduced by the defense, Mr. Jacoby telling the court, "We have nothing to offer."

A brother of Goebelt was in the courtroom during Rogers' hearing. He told a reporter that the Goebelt family lived near Bucyrus until about two years ago and that Glen Goebelt met Rogers at Bucyrus.

Goebelt was the last of seven persons to be arrested in connection with the white slavery cases. The others were Rogers, Mrs. Grace Pollock of 689 Kenton avenue, charged with operating a house of illfame, and four women arrested in a raid at the Pollock house who were charged with disorderly conduct. The 20-year-old Cleveland girl is being held at the county jail as a material witness.

Nazi Move Toward France Explains Churchill Talk

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

A cogent explanation of British Premier Churchill's remarkable fireside appeal to France last night appears in the report from Berlin today that the possibility of France reentering the war on the side of the axis powers is foreseen in the German capital.

Coincident with this comes a report from Switzerland that Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini are trying to induce the French government with favorable peace terms to declare war on her former ally. Premier Marshal Petain is said to oppose any such move, while Vice-Premier Laval is recorded as discussing it with the Germans.

Churchill's speech represents to my mind one of the most remarkable utterances ever delivered by any statesman—indeed, the circumstances surrounding this call in the face of a shattered friendship would appear to be well-nigh unique.

Radiate Confidence

There can be no doubt that Churchill not only had in mind the attempt of the Germans to persuade the French and throw their weight against England, but the fact that many French people are utterly disillusioned as regards the prospect of favorable peace terms and are ripe to resist the invaders as best they can.

But Churchill's broadcast was more than an appeal. It radiated a confidence which far surpassed anything he has said before.

When the premier went to the great extreme of calling the Germans "boche," as he did twice, he registered a note of victory such as he could have done in no other way. I've been watching for that characterization to come into play ever since the war started. Now we get it, and so far as I recall this is the first time in the present conflict that a major statesman has used this word, which is meant to express the utmost contempt.

DRAFT LISTS

which will be surrounded by patriotic ceermony and color, were completed yesterday at a conference between President Roosevelt and Selective Service Director Dykstra. At first Dr. Dykstra announced that the Chief Executive would pick the first number, but later he said that Mr. Roosevelt wished the secretary of war to have this honor.

President To Speak

The President, however, will be present and will deliver an address before the actual lottery drawing begins. Military and civic notables are to attend, and as many of the general public as the large interdepartmental auditorium will hold.

Each of the men who registered is assigned a number by his local draft board. The numbers so assigned are serial numbers, and are not expected to run higher than 7,500 for any one local board area. The sequence in which these serial numbers are drawn in the Oct. 29 lottery will determine the order numbers—that is, the numbers designating the numerical order in which registrants are subject to call.

For the drawing the serial numbers will be placed in gelatine capsules, cobalt blue in color to render them opaque.

On July 30, 1917, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker dipped his hand into the bowl and withdrew the first serial number—258.

No. 258 immediately became order number 1 for every man who held it in the hundreds of local board areas throughout the country.

Officials of Marion County Draft Board No. 2 issued a warning to young men, between 21 and 35 inclusive, who have failed to register. Although instructions have been issued to register such men without penalty until the date of the draft lottery, Oct. 29, there is reason to believe the government will "crack down" on persons who have not registered by that date.

The penalty is not more than five years in the penitentiary nor more than $10,000 fine.

In connection with volunteering for service, it is pointed out that young men between the ages of 18 and 21 may apply through their local draft boards for a year's training. In most instances approval of the parents is required. Such younger men would then be registered and classified as if he were an ordinary registrant.

MRS. ETHEL HOLMES OF GALION TAKEN BY DEATH

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 22—Mrs. Ethel Holmes, 46, wife of Earl T. Holmes died at 7:25 o'clock last night at Good Samaritan hospital, shortly after she had been admitted for treatment.

Mrs. Holmes was born in Galion and was a member of the Presbyterian church, Eastern Star lodge and the American Legion auxiliary.

Private funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home with Rev. William Martin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be made in Fairview cemetery.

ILLNESS FATAL TO WATSON M. IRELAND

Marion Painter Stricken; Funeral Rites Thursday.

Watson Melvin Ireland, 72, a painter by trade, died last night at 8:50 at his home at 543 North Prospect street. He had been in failing health 18 months.

A Canadian by birth, Mr. Ireland came to Marion 42 years ago from East Tawas, Mich. He was born Sept. 15, 1868 at Burlington, Ontario, Canada, son of Thomas Melvin Ireland, a native of Yorkshire, England, and Anna Collison Ireland, a native of Lincolnshire, England.

His wife, Mrs. Alice Birch Ireland, to whom he was married in June of 1894 at East Tawas, died two years ago.

Mr. Ireland was a member of Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. Eagles.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. B. O. Wilson of Alhambra, Calif., and Mrs. Harry Huston of Fostoria, one son, Vane Ireland, of 543 North Prospect street, former Marion county deputy sheriff, and two brothers, Clarence and Herbert Ireland, both of Santa Barbara, Calif.

Friends may call at the W. C. Boyd funeral home on West Columbia street, where the funeral will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial will be made in Forest Glen Memorial park.

PRESIDENT TO TALK IN PHILADELPHIA

By The Associated Press

While Wendell L. Willkie returned to the Chicago area today for his second campaign appearance, President Roosevelt arranged to visit Wilmington, Del., and Camden, N. J., tomorrow prior to his address in Philadelphia.

Mr. Roosevelt's itinerary was announced last night by the Democratic national committee in New York. He will leave Washington by train and make a platform appearance at Wilmington. After reaching Philadelphia he will go by automobile to Camden to inspect the New York shipbuilding plant. Returning to Philadelphia, he will inspect the Cramp ship yards and Frankford arsenal and that evening speak in Convention hall, Philadelphia.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Persinger of Bennett street are parents of a son born Sunday at the home of Mrs. Persinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Halley of 435 Scranton avenue. Mrs. Persinger before her marriage was Miss Annabelle Halley.

A daughter was born this morning at City hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corbin of 534 Henry street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner of 229 North Grand avenue are parents of a daughter born yesterday afternoon at City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of 1160 Cheney avenue are parents of a daughter, Junita Ann, born Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lyons of near Caledonia are parents of a son born yesterday at City hospital.

Good Cooks Avoid Trouble, Union Co. Prison Head Says

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22—The national prison congress was given an "old-fashioned" recipe today for keeping girls out of penal institutions.

"Teach them to scrub, cook, serve meals and mend clothing," advised Mrs. Marguerite Reilley, superintendent of the Ohio women's reformatory at Marysville.

Mrs. Reilley, who is the keeper of Velma West, notorious hammer slayer, asserted in a prepared speech that "one of the most glaring lacks of our present day society is that we have gotten away from the old-fashioned habits of home-making and home-keeping."

Few Good Housekeepers

Deploring a "sad neglect" in the training of girls for "woman's work," she declared that her institution at Marysville seldom received a woman "who knows the art of housekeeping."

"The first step that is taught them on the road back," she added, "is how to scrub, cook, serve meals, mend clothing, be neat housekeepers and to do all the womanly things that were the pride and joy of our mothers."

The reformatory superintendent, who has 270 women in her care, emphasized the restoration of pride, self-confidence and personality in the rehabilitation of wayward women.

The reformatory, she related, has three beauty shops in which inmates are required to obtain a hair-do and a shampoo at least once a week. Girls of good conduct receive permanents as often as necessary. All these services are free. Then there are gifts of cold cream, powder and toilet water for good behavior.

Looks Help Behavior

"You all know," she said, "that when a woman looks well, she feels well, and when she is conscious of this it logically follows that she does her best."

"Democracy so values the individual as to conserve even the anti-social in the hope of readjusting him to its objectives," James V. Bennett, director of the federal bureau of prisons, asserted last night in a presidential address.

He made recommendations to the organization:

Prison enlargement aimed at "smaller prisons for particular types of inmates;"

Remedy of "appalling idleness in prisons" by education and trade training coordinated with industry;

Increased local assistant in rehabilitation of the discharged prisoner, "one of the most dangerous and... acutely pressing problems with which the society must deal."

struck a pole at the southwest corner of the intersection, breaking one of the guide wires holding the overhead traffic light. The light was put out of order temporarily but was repaired later in the morning by city maintenance workers. Stoneburner was thrown partially out of his car.

Stoneburner was taken to the hospital in the Boyd ambulance. Police reported that the front of the truck and the front section and top of the automobile were badly damaged.

Mansfield Man Held

Arrested on the drunken driving charge last night was Charles R. Bailey, 62, of Mansfield whose truck, according to police reports, struck a parked automobile owned by Hartley E. Ward of 106 Fies avenue on West Center street near Fies. The accident occurred about 9:45 p. m. Minor damage resulted to both vehicles.

A car driven by Mrs. Robert Patrick of South Prospect street was damaged in a collision with another car on East Church street between Main and State streets yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Patrick told the driver of the other car failed to stop.

G.O.P. WOMEN TO HEAR MRS. GILBERT BETTMAN

Dr. Sheets of Washington, Also On Wednesday Program.

Mrs. Gilbert Bettman of Cincinnati, wife of Gilbert Bettman, a Republican candidate for judge of the supreme court, will be one of the speakers at a meeting to be sponsored by the Women's Republican club Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at Central Junior High school.

On the program also will be Dr. E. W. Sheets of Washington, D. C., who is here to attend the two-day Ohio corn husking contest. Mr. Sheets has been connected with the national agricultural department for 17 years and has contributed to a number of stock and farm magazines.

Congressman Frederick C. Smith will give a talk and local speakers will be heard in the interest of local candidates. Music will be provided by the Young Republican Glee club.

Mrs. Cora Rexroth, president of the Women's Republican club, today received word that former President Herbert Hoover will speak in Columbus Thursday night at 8. The meeting, to be held in the Columbus auditorium, will be the only one at which Mr. Hoover will speak in Ohio. A number of Marion county Republicans are planning to attend, Mrs. Rexroth said.

hostile government might take against them."

Road to Dictatorship

"The destruction of private enteprise will deliver us, little by little, into the hands of the state. I do not say that the New Deal has deliberately worked toward that end. I do not say that it has deliberately destroyed private initiative so as to establish state socialism in America.

"But I do say that, subtly and imperceptibly, this has been the effect of the New Deal's blind politicies. I say that if those policies are continued, we shall come to that end."

He quoted Thomas Jefferson as having said that if a president ever consented to run for a third term, he (Jefferson) trusted he would be "rejected on this demonstration of his ambitious views."

YOUNG REPUBLICANS PLAN 3 MEETINGS NEXT WEEK

Marion, LaRue and Caledonia Sessions On Schedule.

Plans for meetings here and at LaRue and Caledonia next week were made last night when members of the Marion County Young Republican club convened at campaign headquarters on East Center street.

William Brown of Chillicothe, who is heading the campaign for the league of young Republican voters of Ohio, was a guest speaker. Motion pictures of Wendell L. Willkie, the party's presidential candidate were shown.

Meetings planned next week include a women's session to be held at Central Junior High school auditorium at 8 p. m. Wednesday, a Tuesday night meeting at LaRue and Thursday night at Caledonia.

An inventor has obtained a patent for a golf club handle consisting of a paddle shaped block of wood having four flat sides.

PETRI SPEAKS AT DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Attacks Record of Opponent in Congressional Race.

The record of Congressman Frederick C. Smith in voting on defense legislation was assailed last night by Kenneth M. Petri of Galion, Democratic candidate for Eighth district representative, speaking at Deocratic headquarters here. The audience was estimated by those in charge at 500.

Mr. Petri, guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Marion County Democratic club, after outlining the country's defense needs, reviewed the record of his Republican opponent for the last two years.

Mr. Petri declared Dr. Smith never voted for any bill associated with national defense until last spring. He then charged that Dr. Smith had criticized the administration for not preparing.

Mr. Petri also reviewed his own record as Crawford county representative in the Ohio legislature as a guide to what might be expected of him in congress.

He urged a strong national defense, including a two-ocean navy, and commented that strength "is our only escape from war."

Mr. Petri promised he would not be "a rubber stamp congressman"

Mr. Petri was introduced by Dr. C. J. Altmaier, Marion county party chairman and Eighth district party committeeman.

Announcement was made today that the Democratic club will meet again at 8 o'clock next Monday night.

Prior to the meeting the women's division will hold a cafeteria supper, starting about 6 o'clock.

The Younger Voters Democratic club has made plans for a free public dance next Friday night at headquarters.

BURTON TO REPLACE TAFT ON MARYSVILLE PROGRAM

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22—Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican of Ohio, will join Wendell L. Willkie's special campaign train for the first time Thursday as the Republican presidential nominee returns to Ohio for addresses in Akron and Warren, David S. Ingalls, Republican national committeeman, announced today.

Ingalls said Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, Republican senatorial nominee, had agreed to substitute for Taft Thursday night at a rally in the Marysville, O., high school.

MRS. WILLIAM C. BEATTY and Mrs. C. S. Mooney were co-hostesses and also arranged the surprise program and tea for a meeting of the Current Topic club yesterday afternoon. The interesting home of Mrs. Beatty at 202 South Vine street was the setting for the meeting and Miss Esther Guthery was the guest speaker. For the program Miss Guthery talked on her cruise to South America and presented a number of pictures which she had taken. Of special interest to the club was her account of the island of Trinidad, where 5,000 different varieties of orchids are grown and her visit with Miss Mary Wright, formerly of Marion, in Buenos Aires. The club study topic this year is "A Good Neighbor Tour of South America."

Mrs. A. W. Bacon and Miss Floretta Almendinger reported on the Central district conference at Coshocton last week and Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence gave a report of the county federation board meeting.

Later the members were invited to the dining room where Mrs. E. E. Smith, president of the club, Mrs. Bacon and Miss Guthery presided at the table.

The Beatty home, known as "storybook house," is one of the historical landmarks of Marion. Built in 1855 by Charles Baker, son of Eber Baker, founder of Marion, it was purchased in 1861 by R. H. Johnson and later became the property of W. H. Houghton. About 25 years ago the home was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Beatty. The house was used as a stop on the underground railroad before the Civil war and the secret passages and stairways still are preserved.

Veritzen Reaveals How Leslie Proposed To Effect an Entrance to the Farmhouse

ALTHOUGH I had known from the first that Jack Leslie desired to gain possession of my father for torture and death, the confirmation of my fear from Philip Veritzen's lips filled me with such blind, yet as I knew, important rage against Leslie that I did not know I had made any reply until the sound of my own voice came back to me strangely.

"His word!" I repeated with infinite contempt. "Jack Leslie's word!"

"I know," he agreed. "It is worth absolutely nothing."

"And yet," Lillian said slowly, "You are inside this house for the next few days."

Even his iron composure was not proof against that thrust. He started violently, and his face suddenly had a purplish tinge.

"Lillian!" His voice was almost a shout. "Surely you do not think—"

"Keep the well-known shirt on, Phil," she advised, "and use the equally well-known bean. D'ye think if I had the slightest idea you were trying to play into Leslie's hands, I'd be talking to you? I'd be buzzing the Chief to throw you into a deep dungeon cell."

Glad of Her Trust

He gave a deep relieved sigh, but glowered at her nevertheless.

"You took ten years off my life with that last speech," he grumbled, and evidently meant it.

"You'll put it on again," she replied equably. "I'm just thinking things out, and they appear to point to an extremely commendable pan which you have evolved from the depths of your consciousness.

For the first time during our colloquy, Mr. Veritzen's eyes lost their tortured look.

"I'm glad you believe that I am not wholly a fool," he said.

"I found that out long ago," she told him with a cheery smile. "But now, before you spill your plan, which I know you have, I'd like to know how Leslie expected you to be able to engineer an entrance for him into a house as well guarded as this one?"

"I asked him that," Philip Veritzen replied, his speech and manner returning to normalcy under Lillian's banter, "but his answer bewildered me."

He stopped as if to ponder his bewilderment, and Lillian struck in impatiently.

"Well! what did he say?" she asked bluntly.

"He said," Mr. Veritzen went on slowly, "that he had his own ways of beating out the guard system."

"Oh! he has, has he?" Lillian said belligerently. "I'd like to see them in action. But if he believes that, which I doubt, where do you come into his picture?"

"He explained that," Mr. Veritzen said. "'He said what he most wanted of me was to manage the admittance to the farmhouse of an aide of his who would know how to get signals to him."

"My sainted aunt's pet poodle!" Lillian exclaimed. "He knows the rigid guard that the Chief keeps over this house in this emergency. How in the hinges of the hot place does he expect an emissary of his to be admitted here?"

Puzzling Answer

"I pointed that out to him," Philip Veritzen said, "and his answer was the most puzzling thing of all."

"For instance," Lillian prodded as her old friend showed signs of again going into silent contemplation of his problem.

"He said that this contact person was some one very well known to me, whose entrance into the farmhouse would be most plausible if I did the vouching for it."

Lillian straightened as if somebody had touched her with an electric wire.

"Say that again!" she instructed, and with a lift of his eyebrows, Mr. Veritzen repeated what he had just said.

"AMERICANISM" THEME OF CLUB'S PROGRAM

"Americanism" was the theme for the first program meeting of the Searchlight Literary club of prospect last evening at the home of Miss Florence Almendinger of east of Prospect. The program included two papers, "Willkie Versus Roosevelt," which brought out the personality, family background and items of biographical interest, and "Whither America." The first paper was prepared by Mrs. Fred Wilson and read by Mrs. William McPherson, and Mrs. Donald Hedges presented the second paper. Patriotic songs were sung by the group and decorations were conducted by Miss Mabel Pritchard, assisted at the piano by Mrs. LeRoy LeMasters.

It was voted to contribute to the Red Cross drive and the Community forum. Appointments for refreshments were in keeping with the Halloween season.

A birthday pageant was presented by Elmer Bondley, a past patron, Mrs. Ewing, Miss Verna Mae McWherter, associate worthy matron, Mrs. Florence Wood and Miss Katharine Smith, past matrons. She was presented a bouquet of flowers and also a gift from the chapter. A lighted birthday cake centered the table arranged for refreshments, where Mrs. Pickerel and Mrs. Ewing presided.

Decorations in the hall were baskets of marigolds. Announcement was made of the grand chapter meeting to be held at Cleveland beginning Oct. 29. Planning to attend are Mrs. Ewing, Miss McWherter, Miss Catharine Cheney, Mrs. Pickerel, Miss Pauline Ruhl, Mrs. Laura Morral and Mrs. Florence Wood.

Officers will be elected and annual reports given at a meeting Nov. 4.

GALION CLUB HEARS STATE FAIR HEAD

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 22—Win H. Kinnan, director of the Ohio state fair, was the speaker Monday night at the meeting of the Galion Rotary club.

Bringing out many interesting facts about the methods of conducting the fair, he included how the fair is financed. He said that the legislature appropriates $180,000 and from this $132,000 goes for premiums. Last year a profit of $10,000 was made, and this year this same amount was lost because of the rain.

Talking about the junior fair, he said that there were 33,000 entries. This fair, Kinnan said, acts as a training for the youngsters who will be adult exhibitors some day. Fair management, he stated, is a year around job, and as soon as one fair is over, preparations are started immediately for the one to be held next year.

Following the talk, a film was presented in sound and technicolor of last year's fair.

Guests present were three Marion Rotary club members, Grover C. Snyder, Paul Williams and John J. Stafford; a Mansfield Rotary member, Robert Remy; and Earl D. Horn of Galion.

BAPTIST GUILD HOLDS PARTY NEAR MARION

Husbands and friends of members of the Victoria Christiansen guild of Trinity Baptist church were guests at a Halloween party last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Epley of northeast of Marion. A wiener roast and potluck supper preceded a social evening. Instead of masquing the members and guests carried objects suggesting nursery rhymes, and in a guessing contest afterwards the participants were asked to identify and repeat the nursery rhyme. Honors went to Mrs. Ralph Epley, first, Mr. and Mrs. Dail Gorman, second, and Donald Tower, third. In a contest for the men honors went to Frank Kochensperger. Reed Epley and Harry Woodall. Guests were Julia Ann Gorman, Judy Maxim, Gwendolyn Epley, Mr. Gorman, Mr. Kochensperger, Mr. Tower, Ernest Debolt, George Parcher, George Perry, Ralph Epley, Mr. Woodall, James Sidenstricker, Richard Maxim, Reed Epley, Charles Jones, Albert Beal and Walter Haldeman. On the committee in charge were Mrs. Donald Tower, Mrs. Ernest Patten, Mrs. Louise Somerlot and Mrs. Frank Kochensperger.

Ohio Rubber Industry Given U.S. Help To Find Substitute for Natural Product

By The Associated Press

[illegible]NGTON, Oct. 22—The [illegible]ment has put its facilities [illegible] all of researchers conducting [illegible]nsive studies to develop [illegible] for rubber, vital in na[illegible]fense.

[illegible] officials report that the [illegible] centered in Ohio, has as[illegible] that Uncle Sam is ready [illegible] to place his financial [illegible] behind private efforts to [illegible] synthetics.

[illegible] conference here during in[illegible] of the preparedness [illegible] decided that the industry's expansion program, already under way, would meet immediate needs and that no government assistance was required now.

Representatives of the industry talked with defense commissioners several months ago, outlining in detail plans for new plants and equipment to turn out synthetics designed to make the nation independent of imported rubber if war cut foreign supplies.

The industry is going ahead with its program without federal funds, said an official, adding that oil producers were cooperating fully in furnishing basic materials for synthetics.

The expansion is intended also to build a defense stock of rubber up to 400,000 or 500,000 tons as suggested recently by Waldo L. Semon of Akron, developer of two substitutes for rubber.

Officials said they had received no formal request to carry out Semon's proposal that the defense program include $10,000,000 for plants to make synthetics. They added that none was expected in view of the private undertaking.

Experts generally agreed with Semon that the most practical method of meteing a possible rubber shortage was to evolve a satisfactory substitute, particularly one that could be used for tires.

Dutch elm disease, which has destroyed most of the elm trees in Europe and has spread extensively in the United States, apparently is under control in Ohio.

The department of agriculture also reports marked decreases in other areas.

Intensive scouting showed there was no recurrence of the disease this year at Hockingport, O., where last year's survey disclosed one diseased tree. This year, as in 1938 and 1939, no diseased trees were found in the areas of Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Dutch elm disease came to the United States between 1925 and 1933 on burl elm logs imported from Europe by cabinet makers in the middle west. It is carried from tree to tree by insects, particularly the smaller European elm bark beetle and the native elm bark beetle which lay their eggs in shallow tunnels beneath the bark.

The only known control method is destruction of every diseased tree.

til Hitler's hold on the continent is broken, an American army could not get to Europe; as soon as his hold is broken, no one is going to want to waste ships, supplies, and a year's time moving an American army to Europe. Until Hitler is so badly defeated that he must evacuate France, no army can be sent to France as it was in 1917; when Hitler is so badly defeated that he must leave France, the whole continent will rise against him, and no American army would be needed or could get there in time.

"Manufactured Panic"

All talk, therefore, about sending American boys to the shambles of Europe is what Mr. Willkie called in his acceptance speech a "manufactured panic." On the other hand, there is nothing manufactured about the gravity of our relations with Japan. This, to put it bluntly, is the direction in which war must be regarded as being a genuine possibility.

There is no more possibility, of course, that American armies could be sent across the Pacific than across the Atlantic. But there is the possibility, by no means remote or negligible, of an economic naval, and aerial war in the Pacific.

The possibility arises out of the decision to give economic assistance to China in her resistance to Japan. This policy, which had been cautiously and hesitantly pursued until a month ago, has now become increasingly active. It is a policy which seems to have, if the Gallup poll is to be trusted, the well-nigh unanimous support of the American people. It is, of course, the policy which Mr. Willkie advocated in his San Francisco speech a month ago, and it has now become the avowed policy of the American government. The policy consists in making military supplies available to China and in cutting off military supplies to Japan. The positive aid to China consists in the opening of the Burma road, in the granting of credits, and in the facilitating of Chinese purchases of equipment. The negative aid consists in the successive embargoes on metals and gasoline and in the reported cornering of the oil supplies of the Netherlands Indies.

KING KELLER NAMED SENIOR CLASS HEAD

Chosen As Harding Graduating Class Holds Election.

King Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Keller of 295 West Church street, has been elected president of the senior class of Harding High school, it was announced today following the tabulating of results of the election last week.

Keller, a student in the general course, headed the Harding class in its junior year.

This year's senior class numbers approximately 360 boys and girls.

Elected to serve with the president are Junior Ballenger, vice president; Avis Lill, secretary, and Kenneth Sweeney, treasurer.

The junior class will nominate officers on Thursday of this week and will elect on Friday. The sophomore class will follow the same procedure next week.

Photographing of members of the senior class for the 1941 edition of The Quiver, high school annual, started this week. Individual pictures of each student will be taken. Dale Hughes, photographer, has set up a temporary studio at the high school. It is expected the job will be finished within a week.

Annual per capita consumption of coffee in the United States has risen to 15.5 pounds.

Cornell Sets Pace In U.S. Grid Voting

Penn-Michigan Clash Only One Between Teams in First Ten; Notre Dame Climbs To Second Place After Victory Over Carnegie Tech.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—The nation's football experts, who seem to have qualms about ranking the top ten teams this week, shouldn't have much trouble agreeing upon Pennsylvania vs. Michigan as the week's most important game.

It's the only contest bringing together two teams in the first ten of the second weekly Associated Press poll. Michigan retained third place with 1,040 points and 18 of the first place votes, Penn, while not picked for first place by any balloters, collected 539 points to take eighth.

Cornell Still Leads

Cornell, holding the top spot for the second week, polled 83 votes for first place and a total of 1,473 points on the usual basis of ten points for first, nine for second, etc. Still the Big Red powerhouse didn't finish far in front of Notre Dame. On the strength of their 61-0 triumph over Carnegie Tech, the Irish moved from sixth place to second with 3 first-place votes and 1,152 points. The Texas Aggies, runners-up last week, slipped to fourth place with 1,037. They were picked for first by 15 voters.

Others in the first ten were Tennessee, six firsts and 880 points; Minnesota, 8 firsts and 817 points; Northwestern, 592 points; Stanford 350, and Boston college, 334 points. Minnesota and Stanford advanced in the rankings last week; Northwestern and Boston college dropped back.

The second ten is composed of Fordham, 304; Texas, 107; Clemson (1 first), 80; Mississippi (1 first), 80; Georgetown, 38; Washington, 28; Southern California, 13; Nebraska, 12; Southern Methodist, 11; and Columbia, 8. Scattered points were drawn by Penn State, Ohio State, Detroit, Baylor, Duke, Navy, California, Mississippi State, Georgia Tech, Texas Tech, Wake Forest, Missouri and Colorado.

Will Test Leaders

This week's schedule figures to provide severe tests for all the leaders and perhaps produce some major changes in the rankings. Cornell plays Ohio State, which looks a lot stronger than its five points in the poll and its two defeats indicate. Illinois may give Notre Dame trouble; Texas' Aggies tackle dangerous Baylor; Tennessee plays Florida; Minnesota encounters Iowa; Northwestern plays Indiana, and Stanford meets 17th-place Southern California. Only Boston college has a "breather," against St. Anselm.

The second-ten teams meet rivals of equal importance in these games: Fordham-St. Mary's, Texas-Rice, Clemson-South Carolina, Mississippi-Arkansas, Georgetown-New York university, Washington-California, Nebraska-Missouri and Columbia-Syracuse. Southern Methodist is idle.

CORNELL FAVORED TO TOP OHIO; MICHIGAN GETS NOD OVER PENN

Appears Big Ten and Ivy League Will Split Even in Saturday's Clashes.

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Though the customary and generally sure-pop procedure is to make any Western Conference football team the favorite over an Ivy league entry, that will hardly hold this week. With Ohio State coming to Cornell and Penn traveling out to Michigan in two of next Saturday's top games, the worst we can see for the Ivy is an even break.

From this corner, Cornell appears ready to make it two straight over Ohio State. Material is plentiful at both places, but that of the Buckeyes doesn't seem to hang together very well. The Ithacans, in scoring 112 points to 6 over Colgate, Army and Syracuse, haven't shown the slightest trace of cracking, or of overconfidence.

The Penn-Michigan game presents more of a problem. True, the Red and Blue has averaged nearly 50 points a game, and halfback Francis Xavier Reagan can do as many things as well as any back in the country. But Penn hasn't run into a team with any ability to run the ball, and certainly will get that from Michigan, with Speedboy Tom Harmon and line-bucker Bob Westfall to handle the chores.

Actually, Cornell and Penn are direct opposites. From watching them on successive Saturdays, they appear to shape up this way:

Cornell is a team in every sense of the word, with at least four backs — McCullough, Murphy, Scholl and Bufalino — who can pass or run, blockers who leave nothing to chance, a line that has tremendous drive, ends who catch passes and also pick up yardage in big chunks on end-arounds, and an offense that goes off with great timing and deception.

Penn is far more of a one-man team, one that might be even ordinary, if Reagan had an off-day.

From here, it looks like Cornell over Ohio State, and Michigan over Penn.

COMMITTEE WILL BUY HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 22 — Having cleared $528.15 from the benefit games party given recently at the Galion Country club, the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Good Samaritan hospital board at its monthly meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Horace E. Freese, voted to have the committee appointed last month purchase all equipment which will be needed for the maternity ward and nursery in the new city hospital.

The committee, to work with Naomi Weber, superintendent of the hospital, is composed of Mrs. J. V. Dye, Mrs. J. M. Kidd and Mrs. C. W. Tracht. Since the meeting last month, this committee has made a study of equipment and needs and prices for same. Money derived from the benefit party will go toward the fund for the purchase of this equipment.

Bowling

Crawford Finance "bowlerets" swept three straight games over the last place Indiana Nut Co. entry to move into first place by a one game margin when Colonel's Gulf dropped to second one of three starts in Ladies' All Star bowling matches Monday night at the Marion Recreation Center. High scores were: Crawford Finance, 797 and 2,143; Mrs. Pearl Snyder, 190 and 501.

Vess Beverage dropped a pair to the K. of C. No. 671 while the runner-up Moores & Ross won three from George Stafford Insurance, slashing the Vess quintet's lead to two games in the Home circuit. Defiance Pressed Steel Production swept three from the Office entry of the same plant to earn a deadlock for second. Top scores were Stiles 208, G. Jevas 518, K. of C. 761, Defiance Production 2,214.

LAYDEN NOT SURE YET

By The Associated Press

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Oct. 22—While fans are hailing the Notre Dame team as one of the best Irish outfits on record, Coach Elmer Layden is busy digging up alibis. It seems he said before the season that he would know after the third game how good his boys were. Now he wants to wait until after Saturday's clash with Illinois because "Georgia Tech and Carnegie were crippled and not as effective as we expected them to be."

A Michigan inventor has designed a truck having a motor under the cab to operate the front wheels of the vehicle and another behind it connected to the rear wheels, either or both being used as a driver desires.

LaRance Tames Tarzan Orth
Silvey Floors Two Mat Foe

Jules Wins in Straight Falls As McDonald Fails Appear at Shovel Show.

Jules LaRance, Canadian claimant to the junior heavyweight wrestling crown, stopped Paul (Tarzan) Orth of Cleveland in consecutive falls of their main go fight on last night's mat card at the Marion Steam Shovel arena. Orth, who had been booked to go in the co-featured main event, was saved from annihilation at the hands of the rugged Canuck when Oregon McDonald failed to put in an appearance for his scheduled meeting with LaRance.

Ol' Jules gave the full house, including "ladies' night" guests his version of the "taming of Tarzan" in just 21 minutes and 30 seconds. Both times he used a hammerlock and body slam, bringing Orth down back first on his pinioned left arm. The first round which went 19 minutes, was by far the most exciting, while LaRance polished off Orth in two and one-half minutes the second.

Orth Strikes First

Orth got the first grip, an a hold, in the initial round — a LaRance gained his freedom going for the ropes. In retal tion Jules used a headlock a croke grip, which was broken the referee. Orth's most eff tive hold was a neck scissor a arm stretch which he clamped the champ for nearly eight m utes, before LaRance bounc out to get the winning hamm lock and slam.

John Silvey of Hamilton, O. turned in a performance wh only one other grappler wit the memory of your correspo ent has done, by scoring victo over two foes on the same ca He laced Art Perkins of Detr Mich., with a flying whip in minutes of their scheduled minute preliminary. Because O was moved up to the main ev the winner was given the ri to trade grips in the semi-wind with Walter Stratton, Youn town muscle man.

Takes Little Longer

Silvey proceeded to beat Str ton, although he had to go full three falls to accomplish trick. He measured off Stra in 15 minutes to take the fi fall with his flying whip, a b rage applied by gripping an o ponent's wrist, pulling him i a shoulder butt and sending h flying up and over into the ca vas. Stratton evened the score copping the second with a r ing arm lock in five minutes. T third round was four minutes and Stratton appeared on road to victory with an airpla spin when the hold backfired a Silvey finished on top with body press that gave him the f and match.

Harding Host to Shelby; Irish to Take to Road

Marion grid fans this week, as in few others this season, can see both local scholastic teams work out against formidable foes. Usually they are playing at the same time but the schedule calls for Marion St. Mary to visit Mansfield Madison on Thursday night while Marion Harding is host to Shelby Friday night.

Two other Thursday games are on the card. In the city Thomas A. Edison and Central will meet in a junior high league contest at Harding stadium. The Uptowners can clinch their fourth straight title by winning, while a loss would not eliminate them from championship race.

Lima South is booked to visit the lair of the Kenton High Wildcats Thursday night. With Kenton managing to win only two of its six starts, the Lima invaders naturally are favored to take this one. Other games in the district, set for Friday are, Carey at Forest, Baltimore at Ashley, Marysville at London, Bucyrus at Galion, Fostoria St. Wendelin at Upper Sandusky.

COACHES AND OFFICIALS TO MEET HERE TONIGHT

Members of the North Central Ohio Coaches and Officials association will convene tonight at 8 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A., Thayer Martin, secretary, reported. The arbiters and mentors will discuss grid regulations. Expected here for the session are members from Bucyrus and Galion.

YAROSZ SUSPENDED

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22 — The suspension of former middleweight champion Teddy Yarosz and Lloyd Marshall, Cleveland Negro, was recommended by Referee Red Robinson last night because of their refusal to heed his warnings against fouling during their ten-round bout. Yarosz, weighing 173, won the decision from his 163-pound opponent.

The American Way

MARION will derive a great amount of benefit and satisfaction from taking time out in its daily contemplation of war news to complete the work of supplying its Community Fund needs for the coming year.

It is gratifying for us to realize that although the rest of the world is in turmoil, the American way of living is substantially unchanged and that we have the freedom and the means to keep it so. One of the oustanding proofs of this happy situation is found in the annual Community Fund campaigns conducted not only here, but throughout the land. It is one of the finest expressions of the American spirit of democracy and brotherhood and is being demonstrated this year in a measure that promises to surpass all records of the past.

This year's record should reach those proportions, for contributions to Community Fund campaigns in 1940 serve a manifold purpose. In addition to providing the money required for human needs in each locality, these gifts are an expression of gratitude for the blessings and privileges of American citizenship and a means of sharing in preservation of the institutions and agencies which are a vital part of the national life.

There is every reason to feel assured that Marion's Community Fund campaign will be in accord with the spirit of 1940. Preliminaries in this most important annual event have been in progress approximately two weeks and public solicitation is now under way. A large corps of volunteer workers organized into various divisions are busy and leaders report that indications point to complete success. Responses in advance of the general public canvass were generous and with people throughout the city giving proportionate support, the goal will be reached speedily and in more than full measure.

The goal is $31,000, money to be used during the coming year for operation of the Salvation Army, the Y. M. C. A., the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts and the Girl Reserves, the same five welfare agencies which have been included in the Community Fund budget in the past. Their shares in the fund are in proportion to the scope of their activities and public service, and assurance that every dollar contributed will yield the greatest possible benefit is provided by the group of good citizens who give their time and attention to official management of the fund throughout the year.

Experience has proved that the Community Fund, providing for one campaign a year, is unquestionably far better than the old plan of having separate campaigns for the various agencies. Its success has been established by support of the public and through efficient and conscientious management. Continuance of that fine combination will keep the good work going. You can do your part by greeting the solicitors with a contribution as generous as your means permit. And remember that your gift not only helps support essential public service but also serves as a token of your happiness and appreciation for the priceless privilege of being an American living in a truly American community.

Much Better

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S decision to bring his campaign for a third term to a whirlwind finish is a belated concession to the candor he mentions so often.

With the exception of one speech, which one of his secretaries insisted was so political it couldn't be called non-political, Mr. Roosevelt has been running for his ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth years in the White House sitting down. It has been a good deal like those Russian dancers who sit down to dance—an interesting experiment in human endurance but a pretty dreary exhibition otherwise. Mr. Roosevelt will be easier to watch standing up.

His third term drive has been featured by two illusions which didn't illude. First was the illusion that Democrats were drafting Mr. Roosevelt, when the fact was that he was drafting them. Second was the illusion that he wasn't going to spare any time on campaigning, when the fact was that he couldn't wiggle his ears without appealing for votes. It will be much better now that Mr. Roosevelt admits he is making campaign speeches, that he is running for all he's worth, and that he can't even pretend to ignore Wendell L. Willkie any more for the simple reason that Brother Willkie's giving him a race for his life.

News Behind the News

Many Business Men Ready To Support Willkie Keeping Quiet About It.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Practically all the big business men who have contributed their high-priced services to the Roosevelt administration for defense are going to vote for Willkie—but have agreed privately among themselves not to say so in public.

Paul Mallon

Their determination to keep quiet has, however, been sorely tried twice in the past few days. Several have received reports from their own factories back home that their employes are being told their silence means assent to the third term. At least one official in the national defense commission is sufficiently resentful to do something to clear up his position among his own workers. Others are talking about it.

The fact that Mayor LaGuardia has chosen the opposite course, trebling his political activity in behalf of Roosevelt, since the President named him to a prominent defense post at the outset of the campaign, is also annoying the business men cooped up politically by their own patriotism. Willkie workers have sought to use the LaGuardia case to prod them into speaking out.

Only answer the Willkists could get from the business men is that they are not LaGuardia.

Secret Willkie Vote

Willkists are encountering trouble everywhere in getting their full support from prominent men out before the public. Ordinarily, the clergy and peace leaders might be expected to be prominent in a campaign involving the war and peace issue. Not so this time. Willkie workers have reported back to headquarters that they found many of these prospects quite frankly "afraid" to speak against the party in power. It was not quite clear of what they were "afraid."

One ex-New Dealer now in business let the Willkie people know he could do nothing more than vote for them as he feared post-election reprisal by the government against the concern to which he was newly attached. Many have expressed fear of income tax investigation reprisals.

The situation may indicate the existence of a widespread secret Willkie vote.

Election View

The President spoke confidently his personal view of the election situation to a congressman some days back. Mr. Roosevelt's opinion as related by this sympathetic legislator to his colleagues, runs something like this (not exact words of course):

"The issue the Republicans present are the third term, the claim that they can run the government better than we and that our policies are leading to war.

"We think that we can run the government better than they. We have had a clean administration with little graft. Some stuations have arisen, such as those in the WPA, and we cleaned them up. We stand for peace. Our opponents have endorsed nearly everything we have done."

This is apparently what Roosevelt intends to say when he speaks out in coming speeches.

Taft Stock Rises

A few Republicans, hearing Dewey speak on the radio the other night, remarked he was the only sidetracked Republican candidate who was in there swinging now. They were surprised to hear that Senator Taft has been beating the bushes in Illinois, Ohio, New York state and is going into New Jersey.

Taft has been the soldier of the lot. Dewey's remarks have drawn more national attention, but that may be because he held back and demanded radio time nationally from the Republican leaders before he would speak. When Taft was told the national committee did not have the money for national radio time, he went out to pitch without a microphone.

If Willkie is defeated, Taft will undoubtedly be chosen as the man to hold the fort with Joe Martin.

Hoover Speech

Ray Moley, the Newsweek professor who looked over the advance of Herbert Hoover's speech at Columbus Thursday said it would be worth a million votes. Hoover is making it at the direct suggestion of Willkie.

War Hostesses

The morale division of the war department has passed a report up inside recommending something new in warfare—and possibly delightful. Morale thinks it would be much better for the army to enlist hostesses for canteen duty this time, instead of relying on church and charity organizations indiscriminately as it did in the last war. The hostesses would be chosen upon the same qualifications as air line hostesses except all would not have to be trained nurses. It sounds to the top generals like a good way to spread cheer and cure lonesomeness among the boys away from home, and a better regulated manner.

Maybe life in the army is not going to be so bad after all.

Risks of War for U. S. Seen in Direction of Japan but Not in Europe.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE true position of the United States in this very dangerous world has not been clarified on the contrary, it has been confused and obscured, by the campaigning of the past week. For the truth is that the position in the Pacific is immediately critical whereas the chances that the young men who registered for the draft will ever be sent to fight in Europe are for all practical purposes zero.

But no one would realize this truth by listening to the silence of Mr. Willkie. The voters are being confused by their leaders into worrying about remote and imaginary risks and into forgetting the immediate and real risks.

If all that stood between the American people and another European expeditionary force were the intentions and promises of Mr. Roosevelt or of Mr. Willkie then the people might well have cause to wonder. Campaign promises, hastily dished up in the last desperate weeks before an election, count for nothing as against the tide of events and of circumstances. What count, all that count in matters of this sort, are the facts of the situation, not the words of candidates.

And it is the facts of the situation which make it as certain as anything can be certain in this world that no American army can be raised, trained or equipped, carried across the Atlantic, landed in Europe, and set the task of invading Europe.

Couldn't Repeat 1917

The intervention of 1917 could not be repeated in this war first, because there is no place to land an army, and second, because in this war of mechanized forces it is impossible to find mechanized weapons for the millions of trained soldiers who are already in Europe. The idea of sending an American army when there are no ports where it could debark is in itself absurd. The idea of sending an army, and of trying to supply it, when there are millions of seasoned troops already there who lack arms would be the height of the absurd.

As long as Hitler holds the ports of the continent, an American army could not get to Europe. It would be useless in England because England is already crowded with troops which are not fully armed and cannot be used. If ever the time comes when Hitler has to evacuate the coast of France, opening up ports where in theory an American army might be landed, Hitler will already be on the run, and the quick and sure way to dispose of him will be to pour arms into France for Frenchmen, Belgians, Dutchmen and Britons to use. GOD'S CREATION REVEALS WISDOM: The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth his handiwork.—Psalm 19:1.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Wednesday, Oct. 22, 1930.

Clyde W. Powers, 55, native of Marion who reached a high place in the theatrical world, died in a New York hospital. He had been stage manager of the Hippodrome theater in New York and manager of Fred and Dorothy Stone's "Stepping Stones" company.

Mrs. Richard Edmondson returned to her home in New York City after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schroeter of East Center street.

The Marion County Anti-Tuberculosis league was organized with election of Dr. F. E. Mahla as president and Dr. N. Sifritt as secretary.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

It was Friday, Oct. 22, 1920.

Mrs. Milo H. Gast of Prospect was elected president of the Marion district of the Marion Presbyterial society in a meeting at the First Presbyterian church here.

With a major part of his campaign for the presidency passed, Senator Harding was enroute to his Marion home more confident than ever that the November election would bring an overwhelming Republican victory. He had been greeted by great crowds in his meetings in New York state and there were assurances that he would carry that state by a tremendous majority. He had been urged to extend his trip into New York City, but it was felt by him and by his managers that this would not be necessary. It was announced that from now on he would confine his activities to Ohio. He was scheduled to speak in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Akron in the closing days of October and during the rest of the time was to spend his time quietly in Marion.

The One-Party Road Leads to Fascism

From The Christian Century.

The accompanying article is a digest of an editorial appearing in the current issue of the Christian Century, which supported President Roosevelt for reelection in 1936. The editor, Charles Clayton Morrison, declares that the third term issue stands paramount, that the question of removing the third term barrier is a crucial test of our form of government. His reasons for thinking so are made plain in the article.

THE third term is a domestic issue. It arises primarily and essentially out of domestic conditions. That it has been cast in the form of an international emergency is shrewd political strategy. The attempt to tie the demand for a third term to the international situation only diverts attention from the serious national realities which the third term issue involves.

The traditional barrier against more than two terms for any president reflects the instinctive opposition of American democracy to fascism. True, the great presidents who resisted this temptation and the statesmen who from the beginning of our history have confirmed their wisdom and patriotism did not know the word "fascism." But they knew the thing and set up this barrier against it. They called it monarchy or absolutism or dictatorship, and feared it.

The essence of fascism is one-party government. Essential to a democracy is a two-party system. The limitation on the president's tenure of office is designed to prevent a coalescence of self-interested blocs in a single party in such strength as to crush opposition into impotence. The political situation in America is now, for the first time in our national history, favorable to the consolidation of interested groups into a one-party system.

POLITICAL parties are not primarily composed of disinterested patriots. Their strength lies in the special interests which they can fuse into one organization. These interests may be legitimate, and in large part are. But they may also be predatory. The cohesive cement of party organization is patronage and officeholding. Underneath the ideology of a political party, its philosophy and slogans, there exists this substratum of selfish interest which party success will gratify.

It is not cynical to recognize this. Democracy has found no way by which to conduct its affairs on a plane from which narrow selfish interest is exluded. But it has provided in the no-third-term tradition a device which tends to keep this baser element of our human nature from gaining perpetual control of the government through consolidation in a single party.

The movement of the political forces throughout Mr. Roosevelt's regime has been steadily in the direction of consolidation in a one-party system. Some of the factors cooperating to create such an order have been political, some economic. Of the political, the most determinative has been the simple fact that Mr. Roosevelt carried the country at two elections with such sweeping landslides that his party captured nearly all the offices, not only of the federal government, but of state, county and city governments as well. The opposition party was practically annihilated. It had no patronage to dispense, and but few officeholders whose loyalty to the party would be reinforced by the private necessity of keeping their jobs.

THE marvelous good fortune which threw the vast mechanism of political patronage into the control of Mr. Roosevelt and his party is not the only asset which is being capitalized for the lodging of the full power of government in a single party. Added to the hundreds of thousands of party henchmen on the payroll of federal, state, county and city governments, the policies of the administration have cultivated great voting blocs of the population by a form of economic patronage. Upon these blocs the President confidently depends for success in his defiance of the traditional limitation of the presidential term.

By the social legislation which he sponsored, Mr. Roosevelt's first term established the principle of social responsibility for the victims of an economic order whose evils society is either unwilling or unable to cure. Most of it is of permanent value. The rest of it consists of artificial measures justifiable only on the assumption that they are temporary, pending a radical reform of the economic system which would make these measures unnecessary.

It is this temporizing legislation which now plays into the hands of the President as the chief agent in the consolidating of power in a single party. It consists of special benefits conferred upon particular economic blocs—the organized workers, the farmers and the unemployed. Of Mr. Roosevelt's administration it must be said that he has done nothing to redress the deep-lying disparity of interest which obtains between agriculture, industry and labor. The American people had every right to expect that, having brought about temporary appeasement in his first term, the President would proceed in his second to attack the permanent problem which cannot long be stifled by a dole system. This he has not done.

Instead, Mr. Roosevelt and the authoritative spokesmen for his administration are assiduously engaged in creating the illusion that the temporary and artificial measures adopted are a genuine advance toward prosperity. In addition to all this, the administration gives every evidence that it regards the temporary measures adopted during its first term as permanent. We believe that Mr. Roosevelt has in mind no solution of our economic predicament. His second term has been economically sterile. He offers no hope and makes no promise of doing more in a third term than in his second.

WHEN we turn to Mr. Willkie, we find that he accepts the essential features of the New Deal—those features which fall into the category of permanent social legislation and those which belong in the category of temporary appeasement—but with a difference Mr. Willkie's two slogan words are "production" and "jobs."

There are two respects in which his candidacy appeals to the independent voter who is disillusioned as to Mr. Roosevelt's competence and purpose in relation to the nation's economic predicament. One is the fact that Mr. Willkie, while accepting the temporary expedients of the New Deal, recognizes them for what they are, namely, temporary expedients, not permanent additions to our national economy. He sees this artificiality. He senses the element of insult to the self-respect of farmer and unemployed worker which is implied in the giving of doles instead of justice. He discerns the corrupting moral effects not only upon the recipients of these doles, but upon the rest of the community whose taxes provide them. Mr. Willkie, knows, as every intelligent American must know, that an economy cannot endure on the basis of charity extended to a part of the community by the rest of the community. The whole system is a falsification of the robust self-respect of the American character.

Mr. Willkie, therefore, promises to find a fundamental solution of our economic predicament which will abolish these temporary features of which the New Deal is so shamelessly proud. He promises. Whether he can fulfill his promise no one knows. But we prefer as president a man who sees the realities of our predicament clearly enough to promise that he will try to save us rather than one who cavalierly pretends that we are already saved.

Editor Frayne

He's a Friend of Ours Who Alway Wanted a Small Town Paper and Finally Bought One.

By DAMON RUNYON

NEARLY every newspaperman we have eve known has cherished the ambition of havi a newspaper of his own. As a matter of fac we have often entertained yearnings in tha direction ourself.

A nice little paper in a nice little town, an a nice little house, preferably white, on a n little street bordered by big shade trees, and green lawns and a nice little income, and nothing to worry about. That has long been our notion of a fourth estate elysium. Especially the nothing to worry about.

Damon Runyon

We have never permitted our happy idea of newspaper proprietorship to be marred by thoughts of the cost of white paper and the expense of labor, or of delinquent subscribers and tardy advertisers, or of any hard work that might be involved. We understand these things are by no means foreign to newspaper ownership, but we would rathe not bother about them. Not when we are dreaming. If you are going to cook up dreams, yo might as well make them pleasant.

Our dream of a paper of our own include only patrons fighting to pass their money ove our business office counter, a little light effor such as the writing of an editorial now an then deploring conditions in some other community, and sufficient leisure to play plent of rummy with the boys at the Elks' clu If you know of a paper where we might enjoy these conditions, we would be deeply interested.

ANYWAY, a newspaper friend of ours who was always talking of one day having a paper of his own was Eddie Frayne, sport editor of the New York American for 13 years of our connection with that department, and afterwards sports editor of the Journal. He had come to New York from Los Angeles where he had been a sports editor for years He was a great sports editor, too, with a passion for photographic art on his pages, typographical perfection and good writing.

But all the time he was devoting his energie to sports pages he was nursing his vision of a paper of his own. He gave us many an earful on the subject. He smudged up much table linen in the Tavern and Dinty Moore's and Lindy's jotting down figures for our edification. We never paid much attention. Eddie was always taking careful stock of such disma possibilities as deficits. We did not care to hea about that kind of newspaper.

Although he was born in Brooklyn and nearly all his newspaper experience was metropolitan, Eddie did not want a paper in a bi town. He wanted a paper in a small town. We always suspected him of rural proclivities from the time he moved out of a Manhattan apartment and went to Great Neck and raised tulips Or maybe they were petunias. Anyway, w thought they represented expression of a longing for the pastoral.

EDDIE resigned from the Journal and American a couple of years ago and joined Mike Jacobs in the prizefighting business a general manager of the Twentieth Centur Sporting club. He used to sit in an office looking down into Broadway talking of that newspaper of his own. One day he remarked that he guessed the only way to get it was to g looking for it.

He said goodbye to Mike and moved, ba and baggage, to Palo Alto, leaving his son Edward Jr., to graduate from Columbia and incidently acquire a wife.

For a year deep silence enveloped Eddie Frayne, though we heard occasional rumor that he was prospecting around for his paper Then a few days ago there came to us a copy of the evening edition of the Turlock Dail Journal, carrying the announcement that th paper had been sold to Edward F. Frayne and his wife, Vera, and at the masthead as edito and publisher was the name of our hero.

It is a lively looking little paper with morning and evening editions. A weekly called th Tribune and a commercial printing plant ar included in the deal. Turlock is the center o a thriving agricultural section of the great Sa Joaquin valley and is said to be one of the bes towns in that part of California We notice tha the lead story in the paper deals with the increase of turkeys in the Turlock district. I seems that turkey raising is Turlock's fastes growing industry. We must remember to remin Editor Frayne of our Thanksgiving address.

WE also note in the Journal a presentatio of the classic countenance of Edmund D Coblentz, publisher of the San Francisco Call Bulletin, the occasion being the dedication o that paper's magnificent new plant. Edito Frayne probably broke open the page of th Journal to get that in. Publisher Coblentz, a editor of the New York American, was the ma who brought Editor Frayne to New York.

Moral—Keep Busy

CHICAGO—A man or woman is safer fro accidents while at work in America than whi off the job.

"In other words," says the National Safet Council, "for gainfully employed persons th accident hazards of the factory and office ar less likely to ensnare them than are the hazard of the home, traffic and participation in spor or recreational activity."

Accident Facts, the Council's statistical year book, reports that for every 10 workers killed i occupational accidents during 1939, 16 wer killed in off-the-job accidents. The total fo work accidents was 15,500 and for off-the-jo accidents, 25,000.

Considering the fact that workers spend onl about one-third of the day at their jobs, th death rate based on exposure would appear be about the same for the two classes of acci dents, the Council says. However, if hours sleep are deducted, the rate for off-the-job acci dents is approximately one and one-half time the rate for work accidents.

Approximately 1,000,000 persons derive livelihood from the 161 U. S. national forests i 40 states, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

LIONS CLUB HEARS DISTRICT GOVERNOR

Mt Vernon Group Guests As Cleveland Man Speaks.

Praise for compulsory military ing as 'a way of making the youth aware of the re- ies of citizenship" was here Monday night by rd Hendershot, Cleveland ney and district governor of Lions clubs Mr Hendershot spoke at a dinner meeting of the on Lions club in Hotel Hard- ng at which 14 members of the Vernon Lions club were Criticizing what he termed "a despread lack of pep for pa- ism Mr Hendershot said "We must not take glory from e records and deeds of the past must be active and be known the needs of the present, we must give thought to the develop- ent of the high character of American manhood"

Hitler has done one good by ing Americans conscious of he realization that we can not become self satisfied but must give thought to the America that we are making for those who will live 20 years hence ' the speaker ed The price of citizenship has been too cheap and those who have it do not appreciate its value" he said

Mr Hendershot expressed the opinion that many nations have forgotten the precepts of Christianity and he urged "the individual to ponder the fate of the nation"

We have the obligation to in- ure to our children the same standards to which we are accus- med We must pass on to those of tomorrow a better place in ich to live A citizen not cog- izant of this obligation falls down gravely and menaces the country and its well-being We must individually and collectively earn our rewards—not receive the captain's commission without justly deserving it We must practice being Christians if we wish to insure a Christian nation"

Robert G Rosenberg, Eldred E ans and Bert Brashares were troduced as new members

POLICE ROUND UP 5 "HALLOWEENERS"

Accused of Wholesale Deflation of Auto Tires.

Three boys and two girls ranging in age from 13 to 16 were rounded up in the East Side by police last night for deflating automobile tires in what officers termed 'premature Halloweening' The evidence 69 tire valve caps found in the boys' and girls' pockets

Police said they have been receiving numerous complaints for the last three or four nights regarding Halloween pranksters letting air out of tires in that section of Marion particularly on Pennsylvania and Clover avenues and Summit street Last night Summit street residents reported a group of boys and girls were letting air out of every tire on the street ' and officers were sent to investigate They reported they found the children near their homes on Pennsylvania avenue and Reed avenue

All five were held overnight at the county detention home and are to be arraigned before Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast today Chief Marks said the charges might be more serious than just Halloweening' because in addition to the valve caps officers found 12 flashlights in the youngsters possession Several East Side residents have complained that flashlights have been stolen from their automobiles recently, he added

NAVY DAY PROGRAM IS SCHEDULED HERE

Observance at V. F. W. Hall Will Be Open to Public.

A program of talks, motion pictures and a pageant has been arranged for the public program in observance of Navy day on Wednesday night at 8 in the V F W hall on South Main street.

Charles Silber local recruiting officer for the United States navy, will be the principal speaker Mr Silber, who holds the rating, chief water tender, was transferred from the U S S Texas to recruiting duty here He has had 15 years of active service in the navy.

Several reels of motion pictures will be shown depicting the navy in action life in the navy, and defense action

Other talks will be given by Peres Dix Ziegler of Mt Gilead, on his experiences aboard the U S S Panay when it was bombed by the Japanese by Henry Uhline on his experiences with the U S Marines in China, and by Ivan Wittubslager, World War veteran, on a soldier's opinion of a sailor

Gene McGinnis will entertain with magic tricks. A history of the Marion Navy club will be given by Paul D Reynolds L M Sherman, composer of the Navy club song, will have a part in the program

Refreshments will be served by members of Marion Post No 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars

The program, to which the public and all veterans' organizations and auxiliaries have been invited is sponsored by the Navy club and the V F W

In the observance this year, it is the desire of the Marion club to focus attention of the public on the fundamental proposition that the country should keep its Navy strong according to officers Navy day, Oct 27, was originally designated because it is the birthday of President Theodore Roosevelt who believed in the United States establishing a sound naval policy

Y. M. C. A. Rounding Out 48 Years of Service Here

1940 Sets New High Mark in Scope and Value of Activities; 186 Groups Included in Program.

The following story, concerning the activities of the Y M C A, is another in the series published by The Star in support of the Community Fund campaign now in progress The Y with four other agencies is depending upon the Fund for support during the coming year.

The Marion Y M C A is rounding out the most successful year in its 48-year history, successful not only in the nature of the work accomplished but the amount done

"In all our groups" Earl N Hale, executive secretary, reported yesterday, "we have been trying to pull up to have them see a definite purpose and to stick to definite ideals and objectives '

In the last year the Y has extended its broad program of service further into the life of the community, until it carries on a citywide work involving 186 different groups with a total enrollment of 2 588

Two-thirds of the boys and girls and older persons receiving Y benefits are from the less-privileged classes and pay little or nothing to the Y This fact is the chief reason why Marion's Y must ask the community to finance two-thirds of its budget

"In a modern Y M C A building, which actually makes money we could just reverse these figures" Mr Hale said We would need to call on the community only for one-third of our budget '

Improvement Program

As it is, everything possible is being done to rehabilitate the 47-year-old building on South State street The two gyms, the swimming pool and other facilities have been recently remodeled and work is now under way to remodel the first floor

The Y is not a "closed corporation' sort of organization It's wide open to rich and poor

The Gra-Y groups, for example, include about 220 boys and 220 girls from every school in the city, none of them paying a cent for use of the Y gym, pool, shop, game rooms and other facilities Then there is the Y basketball program from Gra-Y members all free

On a membership basis are the Friendly Indians (boys 9 to 12) and Pioneers (somewhat older) groups

The Torch-Y for junior high boys and the Hi-Y for high school boys are partly membership groups 13 in all No boy is barred from them If a boy wants to belong and is financially unable, a membership will be arranged for him

In this respect, it may be noted, however, that the Y carefully watches to avoid creating a 'hand-out' attitude Whenever advisable a boy does something in return for his membership

Other Activities

Other community service activities of the Y include the grade school softball league last summer, assistance in the city softball leagues, assistance with the annual free hobby show, sponsorship of free Y gym and swim meetings for colored boys, who meet each Saturday night

Another outstanding feature, carried on in cooperation with the Girl Reserves, is the series of morning worship services and the special Pre-Easter services which have proved to be quite popular among high school students

In the paying membership class strictly are the business men's organizations which use the Y facilities. They pay their own way and their memberships help support other Y groups, in effect

Summary Of Objectives

In a broad sense, one of the main objectives of the Y is to build leadership, founded on Christian ideals and principles. Other objectives are: citizenship appreciation, character achievement, health betterment, vocational exploration, sports instruction, growth by accepting responsibilities.

In connection with one of these aims, the Y cooperated with Marion service clubs not long ago in a vocational guidance program for Marion's youth.

In summing up, a Y official recently said:

"We are pleased to report that our Marion Y M C A has made real improvement in many lines this past year We have made definite contributions in the lives of hundreds and hundreds of the youth in our city We are concerned about developing real Americans imbued with Christian ideals and principles and with the training of Christian leaders. The Marion Community Foundation helps us attain these purposes by helping us finance our budget. For this we are indeed grateful."

The Y is a local organization, governed in Marion and with Marion leadership It has affiliations with state and national organizations, which are an advantage to the Marion Y

Boston Wool

BOSTON, Oct. 22—Trading in domestic wools was slower today than last week. Scattered sales were being closed and prices realized on these sales were very firm. Around $1.05, scoured basis, could be readily obtained for good French combing length, graded fine territory wools, but holders were mostly inclined to adhere to asking prices above this level. Around 45 cents, in the grease, has been obtained for graded fine Delaine, bright fleece wool.

MARKET SHOWS MORE POWER

Stocks, However, Fail To Work Up Real Rally Fever Today.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—The stock market exhibited a little more confidence today without working itself into a real rallying fever.

While war, taxes and political problems still confronted speculative forces, brokers said, some buying came in on the recognition that Monday's decline was accomplished on only meager offerings.

Securties at London lacked a trend. Bonds and commodities held to a narrow course.

Support was accorded shares of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Wheeling Steel, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont, Pennsylvania, Texas Corp., Anaconda, Pathe and Loew's.

A favorable straw was seen in earnings reports of several corporations, notably Du Pont and Johns-Manville, which revealed that, notwithstanding heavy reservations for higher taxes, third quarter net topped the comparable 1939 period.

ALL GRAINS SHOW ADVANCES TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—All grains made a determined show of strength today in the face of skimpy supplies, good demand from mills and cash houses, and strength in securities.

December wheat advanced more than 1½ cents a bushel at times to 87, the highest level on the movement. May and July wheat, May corn and all deliveries of oats set new peak prices for the season. At the close, virtually all deliveries of wheat and corn were at or near the best levels of the day.

Wheat closed ¾-1⅜ cents higher than Monday's final prices, December 86⅞-87, May 85⅛-¼; corn was ⅛-1 cent up, December 61⅜, May 62⅝, and oats were ⅛-¾ higher.

TO ALL MEN BETWEEN THE AGES OF 21 AND 35

On October 16, 1940, about 16,500,000 men registered under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, but, according to public announcements, it is not contemplated that more than approximately 400,000 men will be called for training before January, 1941, and probably an additional 500,000 by May, 1941.

Recognizing the practical problem created by uncertainty as to the status of those subject to possible call, it is our desire to protect their investment if they purchase new or used cars from us on the General Motors Installment Plan and are called for service in either of the above groups.

Therefore if anyone subject to registration on October 16, 1940, purchases any car from us on the General Motors Installment Plan and is called in either of the above prospective groups, General Motors Acceptance Corporation will repurchase his entire investment in the car, less a charge for the usage at the rate of three per cent per month of the original delivered price.

The repurchase will be in the form of a certificate issued by General Motors Acceptance Corporation and applicable upon the purchase of any other car from us at a later convenient time. Any purchaser under this plan may return his car to us, in normal condition as to wear and tear, within thirty days from the date he is called and be entirely relieved of all further obligation and receive his credit certificate without any other charges, except for unusual damage not covered by insurance.

Should circumstances prevent the use of the credit certificate as intended, application may be made to General Motors Acceptance Corporation for its redemption in cash.

The protective features of the plan are applicable to all such purchases made after October 1, 1940.

General Motors Acceptance Corporation reserves the right to discontinue this plan at any time. Ask us for a folder giving details of the plan.

Draft Army Health

Every physician is being made aware day by day of the various operations of government that are being put in action to take care of our new large army. These are very complicated and have many ramifications. The average citizen in troubled and bewildering times like these wonders whether all the things he naturally worries about are being attended to.

For instance, I find in various parts of the country announcements of courses for civilian physicians in "Medical Preparedness in the Present National Emergency." This includes courses in the "Selective Service Act Machinery and Operation," and in "Non-combatant Military Hospitals and Medical Installations—Civilian Institution Sponsored Hospitals of the Army."

Among many items that come to my desk I select one at random in order to illustrate the far-sightedness and broad-sightedness of the preparations. During the last war the question of army food was often under discussion. And in spite of some natural pleasantries in which that strange and beloved animal, the American soldier, naturally indulges, I will say that I do not believe there was any deep voiced criticism of the cuisine.

The question of appointing a nutrition officer frequently came up. Today the science of nutrition has progressed so much and the world supply of food is in such an unpredictable state that a division of nutrition will probably be formed under army jurisdiction.

In the examination of candidates I hope that routine X-ray chest plates will be instituted. The astonishing experience at the Medicine and Public Health Building at the New York World's Fair, where visitors were lined up and given a chest X-ray for $1.00, showed that of 11,234 supposed healthy people, 3.3 per cent had active tuberculosis. The National Tuberculosis Association has been saying ½ per cent of the population has active tuberculosis. Perhaps with the record of one million selective draft men we will come close to an accurate picture of our tuberculosis situation.

PATTERN 4605

Doing your "homework" is FUN—in a fresh and spirited frock like Pattern 4605. Its smart young style and easy-to-make details are typical Anne Adams features. The round neckline, curved yokes and tuck-and-button trim are all decorative, yet so quick to do. See how the darts just above the waistline hold in the graceful softness of the bodice. There are two sleeve choices —one puffed and tucked, the other a short, comfortable flare. Optional pockets set at a new "hand-angle" are both decorative and convenient. The simple two-piece skirt has a slight flare; a front-tying sash makes a crsp finish. The open diagram view tells you the simple sewing story of this style!

Pattern 4605 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3¼ yards 35 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address, and style number.

Extra! Extra! Everything about the Anne Adams Winter Fashion Book makes extra news! Its vivid pages are filled with styles new as tomorrow's headlines—each in a sure-to-fit pattern. Smart sewing for the whole family circle, including workaday modes and party frocks . . . tailored twosomes and afternoon dresses . . . slimming matron styles and lively "small fry" outfits . . . basic wardrobes for office and campus.
